1 Together As

Friendship is a big part of going to school at Mount de Sales. You'll often find that it is that ONE special friend who will help you through the high school experience.

The student body assembles as ONE during Homecoming Week for a pep rally. Pep rallies have always been a great way to relieve stress and take a break from everyday classes.

It's a new year, and we're . . .

BACK TO SQUARE ONE

It's that time again! 1998-99 is a brand new school YEAR and a fresh new start for the students of Mount de Sales. Once again it is time to get back into the routine OF school! After the students readjust to the classes, the activities, and the general pandemonium of going back to school, the teachers dive headfirst into the curriculum. It is time for THE real fun to begin! It won't take long for everyone at Mount de Sales to experience how great it is to be a CAVALIER!

"I love to draw!!!" Senior Jessica McDaniel finds art class to be ONE relaxing part of her day. Creating her beautiful masterpieces may seem like hard work, but to her it's a breeze.

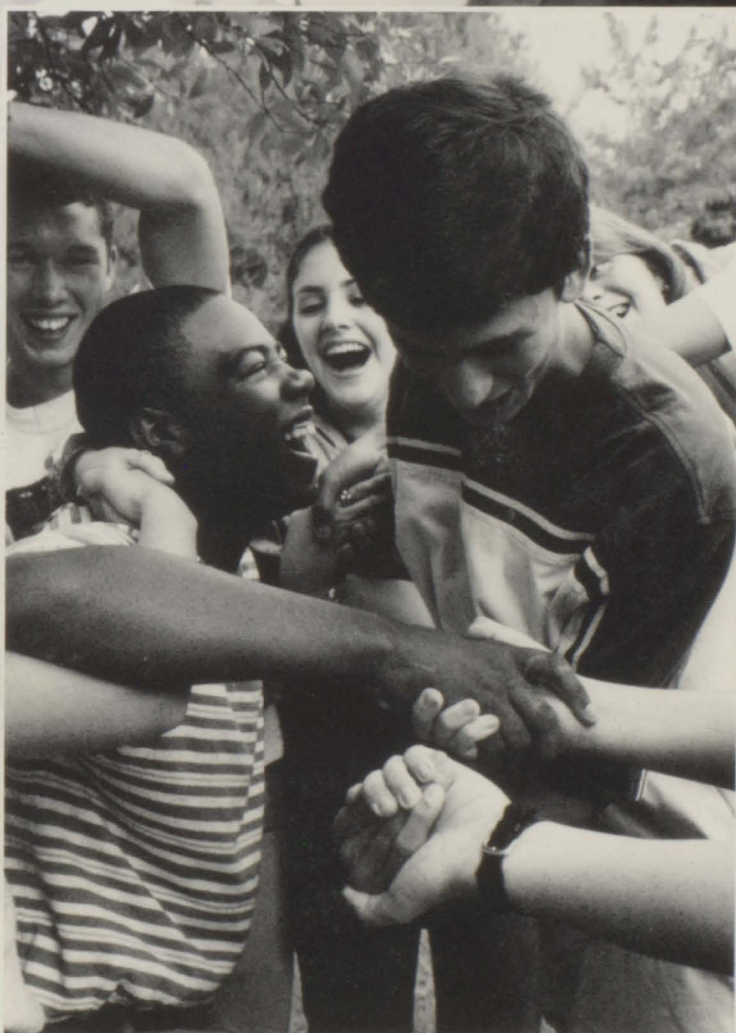

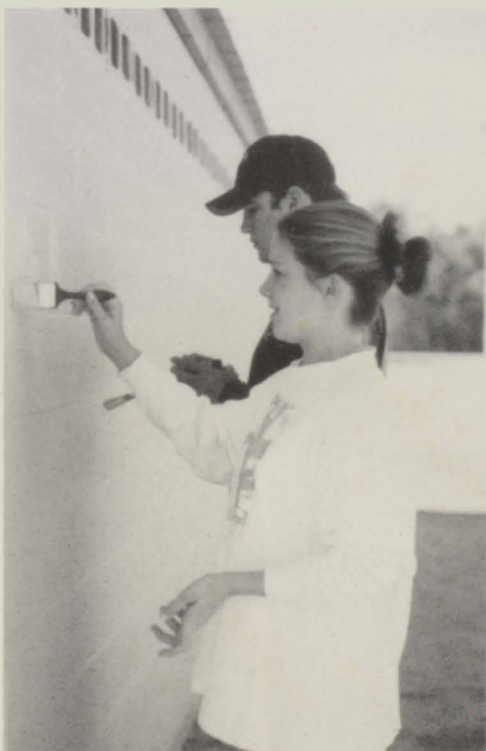

"Hey! I didn't know that!" Senior Jonathan Canady is surprised by how much fun studying Economics can be. Those supply and demand graphs aren't so mind-boggling when you really take ONE minute to think about them.

"We had homework in that class?" Jennifer Puckett gives assistance to her friend Melissa Rosa. Though homework sometimes seems like ONE endless task, students find that it pays off later, especially around test time.

"I never knew painting ONE wall could be so much fun!!!" Seniors Sara Hill and Glenn Shelby take time out of their busy summer to help beautify Cavalier Fields.

A Hands-on Experience... With class retreats came new opportunities for fun and friends. The sophomore retreat gave students ONE chance to think about the upcoming school year as well as have a little fun.

Mount de Sales is . . .

ONE IN A MILLION

Big things have happened this YEAR at Mount de Sales. We had our first Homecoming game at the now fully functional Cavalier Fields. All OF our sports teams made it to state playoffs, and the swim team captured first! The beautiful Mercy Seal was unveiled in front of Mercy Hall. We had our first home track meet, and the girls' soccer team played under some GREAT lights. Positive Attitudes Day was a huge SUCCESS. 1998-99 has been an excellent year at Mount de Sales.

"Just ONE more touch around the eyes." Mr. Freeman applies Senior Jennifer Blankenship's makeup for The Wiz. Costumes and makeup are extremely important in the play.

"I have got to get this done before the bell rings!!!" Sophomore Janelle Joe rushes to get just ONE more thing done before homeroom is over. Around test time, students quickly learn how precious every little second is.

"Oooh! Look at those cheerleaders!" The MdS football players and cheerleaders switch roles at a pep rally to help stir up the students for the big Homecoming game. This is always ONE exciting time at Mount de Sales.

"My mom was supposed to be here twenty minutes ago!!!" A seventh grader sits outside by the gate waiting for his ride to arrive. This is ONE familiar activity to many Mount de Sales students.

Hot like fire!!! The bonfire is a Mount de Sales tradition during Homecoming Week. On ONE special excitement-filled night, students get the opportunity to show off their school spirit.

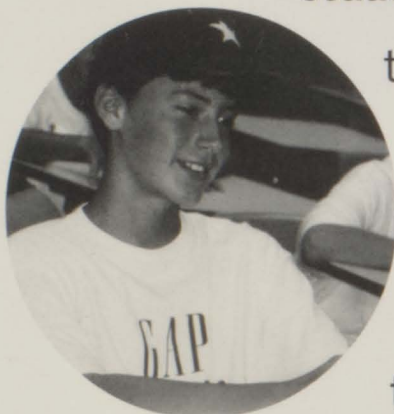

We've got a...

ONE TRACK MIND

From history to math to science and beyond, Mount de Sales students excel. Here their MINDS are filled with the information needed to prepare them for the future and the experience to meet whatever challenges they may face. Though the classes and teachers OF MdS are demanding, the knowledge that the students receive in return for their hard work is priceless. It is not hard to see why MdS is a Recognized School of EXCELLENCE.

I can't wait to be a CAVALIER! During New Student Orientation in August, an incoming middle schooler enthusiastically anticipates all of the good times and the great friends that are most definitely in store for him at Mount de Sales.

"Who's hungry?" Senior Jennifer Blankenship gives a speech on how to prepare her favorite meal. Everyone in the speech class unanimously agreed that the best part was getting to eat the food after the presentations were all over.

Are we really supposed to know this?

Freshmen Nick Dermatas and Ben Mishra concentrate on some difficult math problems. On Math Day, the best math students get to compete with each other and have fun at the same time.

"Only two more minutes to make it to Gray Cottage!"

Amanda Ferrara experiences the daily push for time as she rushes to change books between classes. Students have mastered the art of getting a lot done in a little time.

Putting Our Skills To The Test

♦ "Time is Ticking Away! I Have To Finish!" Freshman Mike Madison rapidly writes his essay as he tries to finish. It took quick thinking to write a good essay in a short amount of time.

♦ All Smiles After competing in the region competition of Literary Day, this group of students shows off what they won. Besides being fun, Literary Day provides a sense of accomplishment.

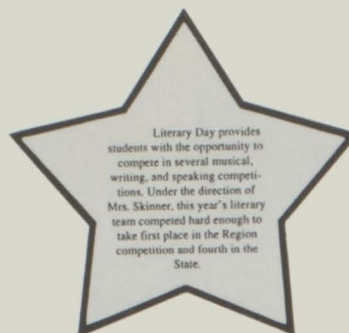

Front- David Brenneman, Kelly Dessart, Kelly Raines, Turner Oppy, Lanier Sammons Middle- Madhu Adiga, Steve Fennell, Mandie Reynolds, Dennisha Vinson, Jennifer Blankenship, John D. Cassidy, Andrew Jenkins, Jenny Paschke, Carla Paschke Back- Sean Caulfield, Chad Green, Carl Merschat, Sean Hickey, David Grinstead, Candace Harrington

♦ "This is Going to Be Great!" Sophomore Florence Bivins concentrates on making her essay meaningful and free of mistakes. She had only a certain amount of time to write a fabulous essay.

♦ "Don't Scare Me Like That!" Mrs. Skinner frightfully looks at senior Kelly Dessart but is assured that everything is okay. Literary Day was a hectic time, but everything ran smoothly.

Literary Day provides students with the opportunity to compete in several musical, writing, and speaking competitions. Under the direction of Mrs. Skinner, this year's literary team competed hard enough to take first place in the Region competition and fourth in the State.

♦ "We Are the Three Amigos!" Getting ready to perform during Literary Day, juniors Kevin Wright and David Brenneman and freshman Andy Blum provide each other with needed support.

♦ "Oh Gosh! I'm Next!" Participants in the Middle School Literary Day await their turn to display their magnificent talents. Literary Day was a great experience for all those involved.

♦“Okay, I Can’t Use Anymore White-Out.” Junior Beth Lorge carefully revises her essay to get it ready to turn in. This is when all the mistakes are found and have to be taken care of.

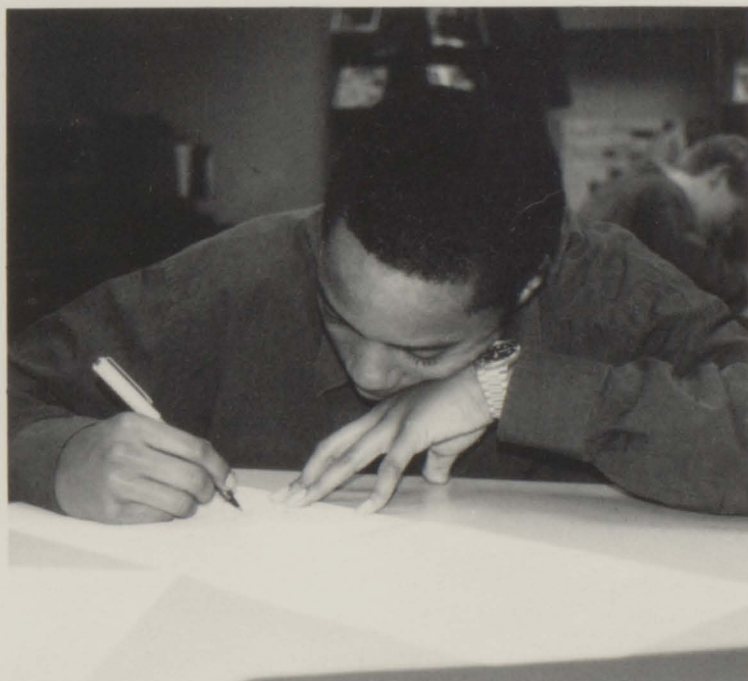

♦Tickling the Ivories During Middle School Literary Day, eighth grader Aaron Kelly amazes everyone with his piano playing abilities. It was especially hard because he had to play by memory.

♦Head to Head Thinking During Middle School Literary Day, eighth graders Jayanthi Narain and Sarah Dessart worked diligently to finish their critical essays before the judges called time.

♦It’s been half an hour and I’m still on my opening! Senior Vernon Logan searches his mind for any help that it might provide him on during the critical essay competition in Literary Day.

OUR SHINNING STARS

♦“Tell Me ... Do I Scare You?” Senior Brandon Jolly puts on a gruesome face for the camera. With his amazing talents he will most definitely become a shining star in the near future.

♦“Led Us To The Yellow Brick Road!” Wow! We actually rounded up the big stars of the outstanding performance The Wiz! Where did Mount de Sales find such magnificent achievers of talent?

♦“This Will Take Me To Showbiz!” As sophomore Wes Nichols concentrates on his lines he can't help but give a dashing pose for the camera. He hopes to shine like a star in the upcoming play!

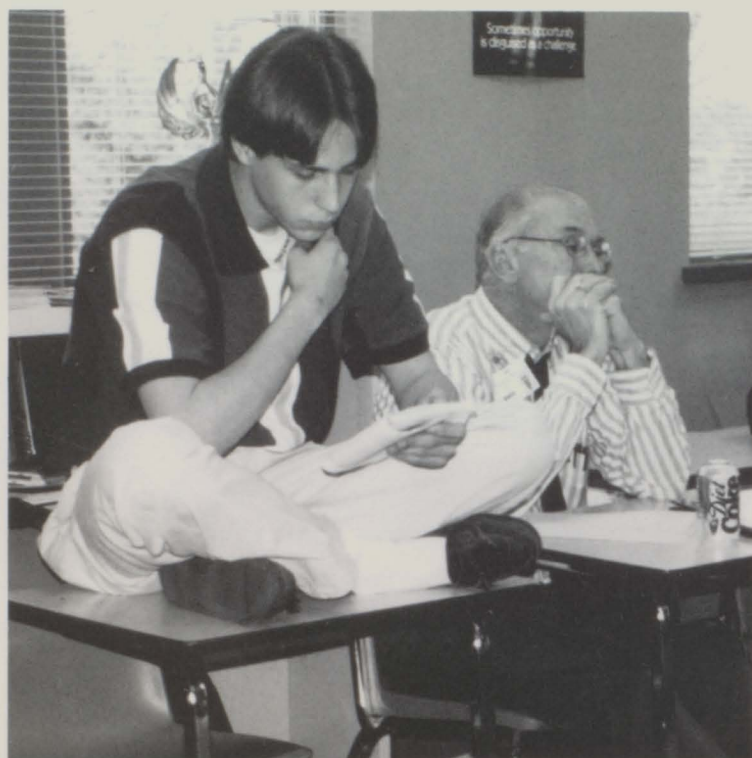

♦“Now, Where Is It That I'm Supposed To Go?” As freshman Kimberly Kelsey searches for her next stage position, the star tries to find someone who might help in this time of distress.

The Drama department at Mount de Sales produced two plays during the 1998-99 school year. The Wiz came in second place in the Region One-Act competition and took fourth in the state. Featuring several new actors and actresses, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer was put on during the winter by Mount de Sales' famous group of Troubadours.

♦“Ouch! I Think She Really Got My Tooth!” Juniors Beth Lorge and John Zebell star in their leading roles as Aunt Polly and Tom Sawyer. A star sure has to go through a lot of pain!

♦“Tough, Tough, Tough Decisions!” Sophomore Chad Folsom tries to help out Mr. Freeman with who should be the next stars in the upcoming show. Mr. Freeman greatly appreciates this advice.

◆“I Sure Hope My Hat’s On Straight!” As the scarecrow from the marvelous performance The Wiz, sophomore Natalie Andrews is not a first time star for the Mount de Sales performances.

◆“The Spotlight Is Always On Us!” The International Thespian Society gathers for a photo. To be part of the group you must acquire a specific point total by assisting with productions.

◆“Please, Don’t Get Any Gum In My Hair!” As senior Jennifer Blankenship hurries to apply Dennisha Vinson’s shining makeup, she can’t help but take a break for herself before the play.

Broadening OUR Boundaries

♦“This ... Drawbridge ... Is ... Stuck!” Making her final preparations, junior Elena Proctor tugs at her drawbridge to untangle the strings that connect the bridge to her castle’s wall.

♦“Am I On Time?” Sophomore Blake Ballard looks for a spot to put his Native American dwelling place. This project is always interesting and fun for the sophomore class.

♦“Chip, Chip, Chipping Away ...” American History teacher Mr. Turner sharpens up his flint knapping skills and creates an arrowhead using only the tools available to Native Americans.

From teepees to castles, Mount de Sales’ students participate in numerous projects that provide hands-on involvement with life in the past. History, with the help of the MdS teachers, helps us learn from our past and develop a bright, promising future.

♦“How Do You Spell Your Last Name Again?” Sophomore Phillip Raines graciously helps out his fellow classmate, Liz Pearce, by filling in the information needed to identify her project.

♦“I Didn’t Know History Could Be So Much Fun!” Eighth graders Peter Hudson, Jessica Riggs, and Clark Stallings share a few laughs while viewing each other’s Civil War battlefields.

MAKING SENSE OF THE PAST

♦On His Guard Eighth grader Tony Baumann stands in full uniform after reporting on the famous Union General Ulysses S. Grant as a part of his Civil War project for American History.

♦All Tired Out Chrissy Waterman, along with the rest of the junior class, is required each year to either construct or draw an actual castle.

♦ "Where Does This Go?" Half asleep, Junior Adam Stafford ponders where exactly on the stage Mr. Turner would like his monstrous castle. It sure does reflect his hard work and energy.

♦ "Only Four Minutes Between Classes, I Have To Hustle!" Freshman Whitney Misch walks as fast as she can to the Grey Cottage so she will not be late to Coach Davis' geography class.

♦ "Well, I Haven't Used 'B' In A While." Sophomores Kelly Wall and Lindsey Holder search their brains for any clues that would help them on their impossible American History test.

♦ "I Didn't Know That!" Seventh graders Sam McLaurin and Jeanine Olivier admire their classmates' projects. Everyone created a poster and wrote a paper about the state of their choice.

On Foreign GROUND

♦"Pop Quiz, What?" When they awoke, sophomores Justin Bundrage and Ben Washburn heard the dreaded words, "take out a pen and a piece of paper," and they immediately knew their misfortune.

♦"Finally, It's Over!" As Carla Paschke handed in her anthology, she let out a huge sigh of relief. Mr. Freeman assigned this project, which teaches time management, to all sophomores.

♦"Has The Bell Rung Yet?" Sophomore Sarah Harrison rushes to find her English assignment before the dreaded bell tolls. To get full credit on her anthology, Sarah must turn it in by 8:05.

♦"Yo Quiero Taco Bell!" Freshmen Autumn Brickle and Kimberly Thomas delivered a speech on Mexican food, which was followed by a grand feast on what they covered in their presentation.

To prepare its students for a bilingual life, Mount de Sales offers French, Spanish, and English. Those that excel in these subjects are offered honors classes and the possibility for induction in the National French Honor Society or the National Spanish Honor Society.

♦“May I Take Your Order?” As a project for speech class, senior Kris Harris was required to give a “how to” speech. Andrew Jenkins and Jennifer Blankenship enjoyed the final result.

♦“What Did That Say?” Senior Leslie Worrell rereads the confusing lines of The Importance of Being Ernest. Not only did this throw her off, but it also made her lose her line of thought.

The Key to Knowledge

♦"Could You Please Restate The Question?" Middle schoolers Rachel Smith, Eric Hardison, and John Kipe ask for assistance in understanding a question during an Academic Team meeting.

♦Argumentative In All Aspect Full of thought-provoking ideas, the Debate team gathered for one quick meeting to prepare with their coach, Mrs. Tate, before they go to competition.

♦"As Soon As I Get Back, This Crate Is Getting Cleaned Out!" At one of the most crucial Debate meetings, sophomore Lanier Sammons thumbs through his crate for his misplaced information.

Mount de Sales offers three clubs that require one key prerequisite, public speaking. Mock Trial gives students the opportunity to develop their skills in a simulated courtroom. Encouraging argumentative speech, the Debate Team competes on two platforms, negative and affirmative. The Academic Team allows students to compete in 13-WMAZ's Teen Challenge.

♦The Different Effects Of Public Speaking Seniors Andrew Jenkins and Jessica Garcia exhibit the two different ways of reacting to being a lawyer, stressed out and under control.

Brain Bowl

♦"Being on the Academic Team was really fun. We learned all kinds of interesting information, to help prepare ourselves for the competition, which would air on local television." — Madhu Adiga

♦"Mock Trial gives students the opportunity to experience what it is like to be a lawyer and to get a feel for what life in the courtroom is like." — Lillie Austin

♦“Where Were You On The Night Of...” During a Mock Trial practice, senior Kelly Dessart questioned her witness to prove their innocence and better prepare them for the Region competition.

Academic Team Back: James Taylor, Jeffrey Bester, Sean Hickey, and Nathan Williams. Front: Kevin Wright, Sean Caufield, Steve Fennell, and Madhu Adiga.

Mock Trial Back: Beth Lorge, Chrissy Waterman, Kim Sorabji, Tim Price, and Ross Crumley. Front: Carl Mersbach, Jessica Glavin, Andrew Jenkins, Kelly Dessart, and Lorie Austin.

♦“When Will We Ever Use This?” At one of their meetings, the Academic Team began to wonder if their vast knowledge would ever be used in a place besides competition and the classroom.

Following THE BEAT

♦“You’re Not Going To Surprise Me With That Camera!” Sophomore Keri Beth Tidmore shows how calm she can be during a performance. All that practicing with the chorus really paid off.

♦“What Line Are We On?” A group of seniors participate in a Mass by singing an uplifting song. Masses and prayer services give us chances to reflect on the things that are most important to us.

♦“Show Us The Seal! We Have To Sing!” Chorus members anxiously await their time to sing. Everyone gathered to hear the meaningful notes of the chorus and to see the seal.

The chorus, band, and handbell ringers make up the magnificent music program here at MdS. Often performing at Masses and other programs, the chorus and handbell ringers always add their special touch. The band lifts everyone’s spirit at pep rallies.

♦Singing Sensation Seniors Keri Brown and Jennifer Blankenship lead one of the prayer service songs. The hands behind them represent occupations of different people in the community.

♦Music To My Ears Getting ready to sing at the Mass of the Holy Spirit, chorus members await their time to shine. Their songs always add a special touch to Masses and ceremonies.

Take It From The Top

“It’s fun. It’s cool. Mrs. Washburn is really neat and I’m planning on doing it next year!” — Kimberly Kelsey

“Chorus is great!” — John Zebell

“The best thing about chorus is when we go to festival!” — Jennifer Blankenship

“This was my first year in chorus and I loved it! We always have fun and Mrs. Washburn is really nice!” — Terri Tyson ◆ Voices To Talk About Members of the chorus sing beautifully at the blessing of the Mercy Seal. Students gathered outside to see the sights and hear the sounds of that memorable Mercy Day.

◆ The Beat of a Different Drummer Eighth grader John-David Pinkston and seventh grader Banky Oderinde increase everyone's spirit during a pep rally by playing some very up-beat tunes.

◆ Multi-talented Teachers At the Mass of the Holy Spirit, the faculty lifted their voices in song as the students looked on with amazement. There were surprised faces everywhere in the gym.

◆ Quality Quartet On Literary Day, the boy's quartet caught everyone's attention with their harmonizing melody. The boys will go on to compete in the region competition at Macon College.

Creating A Style

♦"I Hope I Am Filling This Out Correctly!" Sophomore Jenny Paschke carefully fills out a proof for the latest page she produced. This is her last chance to make any corrections.

♦"What's My Next Assignment?" The DeSales DeSpatch staff gathers for a meeting to find out what their next article will be. The newspaper informs everyone what's going on in school.

♦"I Feel The Love!" Senior Taj Middleton and Dave Ziegler show their smiles during a break at the yearbook workshop. Even though everyone worked hard, there was still time for fun.

Printed Pages refers to three clubs at MdS that produce a form of literature. A class was established this year for the Salesian. The DeSales DeSpatch, the school newspaper, comes out three times a year. Tapestry is a collection of artwork and poetry that the students produce.

♦"What Happened To It?" Co-editors Chris Howard and Michelle Black, along with Madhu Adiga, are puzzled about the outcome of the news article they just typed for the next edition.

From Our Point of View

Literary Magazine — Vernon Logan and Lanier Sammons

Yearbook-Student Life Section — Jessica Stinson, Ed. and Liz Pearce

Yearbook Editors — Maria Geddis and Katie Meyers

Eighth grader Nneka Nwosu concentrates on the task at hand. It takes a lot of time, effort and determination to produce a yearbook to be proud of.

♦ "Typing Makes Me Sleepy!"
Freshman Mike Madison tries to focus at a Literary Magazine meeting. Long hours are often put in to make sure the magazine is ready for everyone to read.

IT ALL ADDS UP!

♦“Ugh ... These Straws Are ... Stuck” Using her extensive knowledge of dodecahedrons from Math IV, senior Jessica Stinson attempts to improve her latest creation from Mr. Midkiff’s class.

♦“Ahh, Math Is So Simple When You Have Experience!” Seniors Brennan McGoldrick and Michael Walton discuss the simplicity of Math Day and how fast the answers come when you are a captain.

♦“How Did I Get That Answer?” Sophomore Liz Pearce gazes at her calculator to figure out how she got an extremely odd answer to one of the more difficult word problems in a competition.

♦Size Really Does Matter Senior Jonathan Akin proves that his height not only pays off in basketball, but his long arms help him to be the first person to turn in his answers in Math Day.

The Math department at Mount de Sales sponsors a special day out of the year and devotes it to all of its students. On Math Day, participants answer complicated problems in order to help their team defeat its opponents and take first place in competition.

♦The Many Faces Of Math During Math Day, Joseph Irwin sports a look of anxiety while Andy Filus awaits in anticipation, but Genesieve Olivier seeks her teammate’s outcome with confidence.

♦“If You Use The Pythagorean Theorem ...” Junior Jonathan Duncote explains to his teammate and fellow classmate, Jeff Bester, the best way to solve a difficult problem in Math Day.

MAKING IT COUNT

Math Team Back: Lanier Sammons, Sean Caufield, Hamilton Hardison, Ryohei Matsumoto, Jeff Bester, Front: Sarah Burch, Madhu Adiga, Carla Paschke, Jenny Paschke, and Karlene Karrfalt.

Soaking It In Freshman Sarah Burch and Hamilton Hardison listen to Mr. Garvin at a Math Team practice.

♦ "Two Heads Are Better Than One!" Freshmen Dustin Nieser and Matt Williams decide to put their heads together in order to get more work accomplished on the geometry problems in Math Day.

♦ "Five Minutes Left, I Have To Finish This!" Freshman John Pacosa rushes during study hall to complete his geometry homework so it will be ready to turn in during his next period.

♦ The Battle Has Begun Eighth grader Wrenn Federlein and seventh grader Will Stevens battle for the title of Middle School Math Champion while trying to advance their team in competition.

♦ Girl Power To The Rescue With senior Andrea Tice in command, sophomore Madhu Adiga and freshman Tala Katner, have nothing to fear of Mr. Garvin and all of the math tricks up his sleeve.

Faith Filled

♦"Look Who's Singing Now!" At the Mass of the Holy Spirit, the faculty was a hit as they serenaded their audience. This first Mass of the year always gets the students off to a good start.

♦"Caring And Sharing An enthusiastic bunch of freshman show the results of their efforts. The moneys that were collected will help families in Central America affected by the hurricane.

♦"Am I Supposed To Go Now?" Senior Jeffrey Crumbly and junior Adam Koetter represent sports during Mass. A prayer was said to keep everyone safe as they participate in different activities.

Mount de Sales is known for its religious background and celebrations. Students are involved in classes provided by the school to help them learn more about God. Prayer services and Masses also help us to see the many ways in which God can be a part of our lives each day.

♦"What A Success!" Mr. Midkiff joined by members of the senior class, show a fraction of the clothing brought in for hurricane victims. There was a great response to those who had need.

♦"Got Any Ideas?" At the freshman retreat, Michael Grimsley and Michael Stallings work on one of the many games planned. The retreat were a fun and unique way to get to know classmates.

Serves You Right

♦"Participating in the clothing drive made me feel good and I think that it was a very productive way to help others. It's a good idea to be involved in school service because sometimes it's the only service people have time to do." — Russ Ferreyra

♦"The Thanksgiving Canned Food Drive is an opportunity that I gladly participate in every year. I believe that God will truly bless those that sacrificially give their time and their effort to others who need them." — Royce Collins

♦"By cleaning up the convent grounds, we helped to reduce the work of others who are not able to get the job done, as well as make everything look beautiful. Community service is a great way to meet new people and give our time to those who are less fortunate." — Nicky Frady

◆Radiant Voices Seniors Dennisha Vinson and Kelly Raines share a song with their listeners on Mercy Day. On this day, the Mercy Seal was commemorated as a new addition to the school.

◆Right Foot, Left Foot Seniors Gabriel Azar and Emily Andrews participate in the Mass of the Holy Spirit. Everyone gathered to sing and pray for all the up and coming activities.

◆"I Wonder What It Looks Like?" On Mercy Day, seventh graders walk by Mercy Hall that is newly adorned with the beautiful seal. The seal was the main attraction at its first showing.

◆Contributing To Lives Members of the sophomore class give to the Catholic Relief Services during the Thanksgiving Prayer Service. A great way to give thanks is to help others in need.

SHARPER Images

♦"This Must Be The Perfect House!" Senior Vari Brown puts the finishing touches on one of his "custom-drawn" houses. He knows this is great preparation for his architectural career.

♦Learning Discipline On The Field And In The Classroom Besides being a team player on the soccer field, Junior Rebecca Raffield works well with paintbrushes and canvas in the art room.

♦"Oh The Pain!" Junior Katie Hofstadter grimaces as she cuts out flamingos for the Christmas door decorating contest. If anyone knows Ms. Hutto, then they know of her love of flamingos.

A variety of students under Mrs. Mead's direction make up Mount de Sales' talented artists. Some of the older and more interested students are recognized as members of the Art Honor Society. Student art is often displayed in the library, the Tapestry magazine, and on the web.

♦Preparing For The Plunge These art students are setting up for their annual project. This year they extended the cafeteria floral mural that already helped make lunch so delightful.

♦"Well, I Find That This Drawing Technique Works The Best For That!" Junior Andy Knight advises Keely Stanley on the best artistic method to come up with a realistic sketch of an elephant.

A TOUCH OF OUR FINEST

♦ "Art Can Be Extremely Icky, Yet Fun!" Concentrating on making magnificent works of art, Sarah Burch and Jessica Freeman try their best to keep their art on the paper and off themselves.

It Does a Body Good!

♦“I Can’t Believe What I’ve Gotten Myself Into!” Introducing ... the Mermachine! While students got four throws at teachers, they were given only two throws for a chance to dunk Mr. Mermann.

♦“Tell Me Again ... Why Am I Doing This?” While senior Chad Green stoops over to pick up a cottonball off the shiny gym floor, he wonders why he ever signed up for this particular event.

♦“The Crowd Goes Wild!” The student body watches senior Michael Walton slam dunks a football during the football relay at Fun Day. He is determined to come in first place for the class.

♦“I’m Going To Be The Next American Gladiator!” Senior Brandon Renfro waits for his next competitor. How much longer do you think it will take him before he gets knocked off the platform?

Each year Physical Education classes provide a variety of sports and activities for students to enjoy. This year students participated in basketball, badminton, soccer, frisbee, “Prison Ball”, flag football, and softball. Sign up for P.E. and you will get a great workout!

♦“Come On! You Can Do It!” With just a little bit farther to go, sophomore David Rumph tries his might to keep the white string from crossing the line. Just look, his face proves it!

♦“Let Me Rebound It This Time!” Wouldn’t freshmen Karlene Karfalt, Jon Cochran, and Brandt Or make a great co-ed team? Combining the two P.E. classes makes an interesting game!

2. CARRYING A 100 LB. BOOKBAG ON YOUR BACK
3. CLIMBING STAIRS WHILE BALANCING # 2
4. MANUAL LABOR (IT WORKS)
5. LIFTING WEIGHTS ON MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, AND FRIDAY

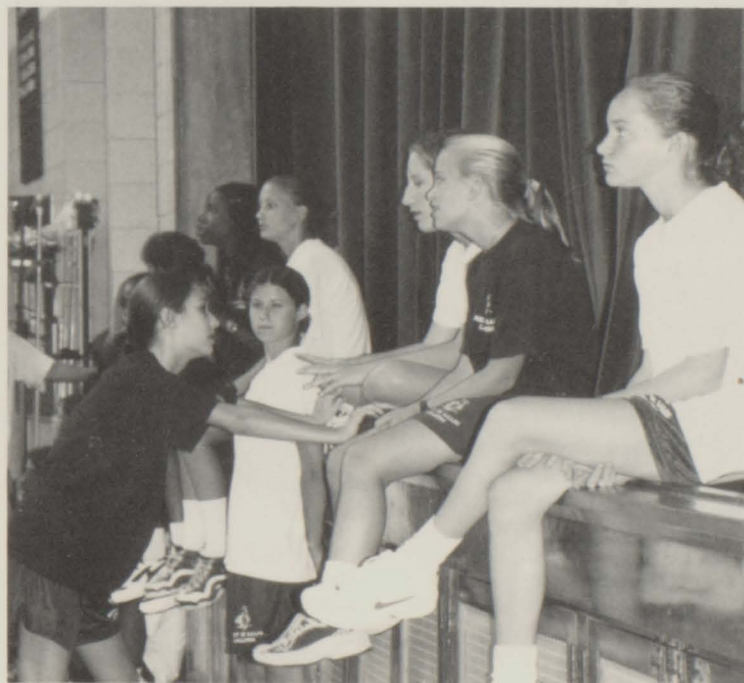

♣ "I Hope That I Am Doing This Right!" Freshman Michael Grimsley tries to figure out the purpose of this body-building machine. Mr. Turner stands by in case he has to give a few pointers.

♠ "When Is It Going To Be Our Turn?" Freshmen girls linger around the stage, waiting their turn to get involved in the game. They wonder how much longer the other team will play.

♦ "The Ball's Coming Our Way!" As seventh graders Joanna Akin and Leslie Jerkins prepare to hit the volleyball over to the other side, they hope they will score a point for their team.

♦ "Hope You're Ready Because Here It Comes!" Freshman Autumn Etheridge tosses a frisbee towards her unexpected friend. The P.E. classes were given a week to practice on their aim.

Mind Over Matter

♦Exploring and Discovering Juniors Rachael Patch and Samantha Silva concentrate on every detail of their chemistry lab. Labs provide an alternative way of exploring the wonders of science.

♦Looking At Life By using microscopes, sophomores John Hurley and Carmen Bell explore many forms of life. Looking at various organisms and how they live is what biology is all about!

♦"Look At Tha ! Isn't That Amazing!" Mrs. Dermatas assists sophomore Keri Beth Tidmore in focusing the specimen under the microscope to make sure she has the perfect view of the organism.

♦"Do you get it now?" Mr. Mac makes sure junior Katie Thomason understands a tough chemistry problem before the test comes up. Understanding all that information can be difficult sometimes!

With its dissections, labs, and microscopes, the Science Department is always accomplishing something new and exciting! Our Technology Department has grown and now includes a Webmaster Team that is working to create a web page to inform people of the events at the school.

♦"Don't Drop It!" Seniors John LeBlanc, Jeffrey Crumbley, and James Prigatano work together to make sure they complete their lab without mistakes. Labs add to the excitement of chemistry.

♦"What Have You Done Now?" Webmaster Team members look quizzically at a computer as they work diligently on the school web page. It takes a lot of time to keep the web page updated.

Webmasters Team

♦Webmasters Team Top: Jeffrey Bester, Sean Hickey, Micah Cooper Bottom: Gabe Azar, Sean Caulfield, Steve Fennell, Matt Lorge, and John D. Cassidy

Science Team

♦Science Team Jeffrey Bester, Steve Fennell, Sean Hickey, Sean Caulfield, and Madhu Adiga

♦"How Did You Do That?" Junior Melissa Rosa smiles at what fellow classmate Jennifer Puckett amazingly did during a chemistry lab.

♦ Technology At Its Best Hard at work, members of the Webmasters Team create and design the web page as well as update it to make sure it informs everyone of the up-and-coming events.

♦ "Time's Up!" Senior Brennan McGoldrick checks the stop watch for the remaining time during a lab in physics. Precision, clarity, and significant digits are very important parts of a lab.

♦ "They're Gonna Love This!" Adding to the school's web page, senior Gabe Azar smiles as he realizes how great the page is going to look. The Webmasters are a fantastic new addition!

♦ "They Reproduce Faster Than I Can Draw Them!" As she draws the organism she sees in the microscope, sophomore Margo Gentry contemplates what life forms she will next look at in biology.

So Much To Do, So Little Time

♦"I Need A Nap!" Before American History class begins, sophomore Chris Lockwood takes a short break. It is hard to make it through the day without pausing to gather your thoughts.

♦"I ... Need ... More ... Water." A group of seventh graders take a breather during their retreat to get a cool drink. The retreats were lots of fun but they really drained all your energy.

♦"The Balloons Refuse To Stick Together!" On Positive Attitudes Day, Seniors Kelly Raines and John D. Cassidy find that stress comes in many shapes as they try to finish the balloon tower.

♦"All I Do Is Study, Not Stress Out!" Senior Lena Mathis focuses on the material she is reading. A clear understanding of the material makes a test so much easier to take and pass.

As an everyday part of life, stress can often effect you in many ways. From school to extracurricular activities and a job, it is sometimes difficult to fit everything into an already busy schedule. The trick is finding a way to handle your stress that works best for you. Some organize their priorities, while other take a nap, how do you relieve stress?

♦"Maybe I Should Go Home." After working on her anthology all night, sophomore Jayme Potts looks tired. When stress is relieved and the task is complete, the body tends to fall apart.

♦"Can't You See I'm Trying To Eat Here!" At the freshman retreat, Nick Ewing and Andy Graycheck attempt to eat in peace. The retreats were a fun way to relieve the stress of school.

5 Most Used Ways to Relieve Stress:

1. Listen to Music
2. Call a Friend and Talk
3. Pig Out on Food
4. Go to Sleep
5. SCREAM!!!

◆ “Which Eighth Grader Is This?” Junior Mary Catherine Smith deals with the stresses of producing a year-book that will adequately cover what has been going on during the exciting year.

◆ “Who Me?! Are You Talking To Me?” Junior Amber Barham looks innocently at the camera as she goes to throw away her plate. Stress mounts in her voice as she expects the worse to happen.

◆ “I Told You So!” Freshman Erin Coleman makes sure the person she is talking knows they have made a big mistake. Being able to talk and joke with friends always helps to relieve stress.

The TOP of the Notch

For those students who demonstrate accomplishments in character, leadership, scholarship, and school service the National Honor Society and the National Junior Honor Society nationally recognizes them and their high standards. In order to be considered for this honor, a student must meet the academic standards of a cumulative average of 90 or above.

♦ "Wax, Please Don't Drip On Me!" As a National Junior Honor Society officer, freshman Kristen Taylor fulfilled her duty by lighting a candle that represents one of the society's purposes.

♦ National Junior Honor Society M. Williams, K. Rockmore, E. Coleman, C. Murphy, E. Dessem, S. DeLoach, K. Leverett, J. Taylor, N. Ewing, D. Ebanks, K. Fennell, J. Freeman, J. Oliver, K. ◆“Please Rise and Repeat After Me ...” Mr. Mermann instructs the new inductees, at the National Honor Society ceremony, to follow along while swearing them into this prestigious society.

◆“Let’s See, First, Then Last Name ...” Eighth grader Jennifer Oliver struggles, as do many new inductees, to sign her name correctly into the National Junior Honor Society’s ledger.

◆“Aren’t You Proud Of Me?” Junior Beth Lorge joins her parents to discuss how lovely the National Honor Society induction ceremony was. Beth put forth much effort to achieve this honor.

One body, many faces . . .

ONE AND ALL

The people of Mount de Sales are undebatably ONE of the greatest things about this SCHOOL. The talents and contributions of the students, combined WITH the dedication and concern of the teachers are prominent reasons why MdS is so special. REAL friendships, a strong, stable faith in God, and tons of interesting ways to learn all complete the equation for the unequalled CLASS of the Mount de Sales faculty and students.

"Hey, that's a good one!" Coach Tony Pierce and Mrs. Janice Cortes share a hearty laugh in the cafeteria during their lunch period. These jolly faculty members really know the importance of good friends and good food.

So happy together! These middle school friends give each other a big group hug in the trapezoid before heading out to class. They know that hanging out with friends is one of the most special and fun parts of school.

"This is soooo much more fun than regular class!!!" These freshmen are definitely having fun at their retreat. It was not only a day of fun and games but also an opportunity for the freshmen to get to know each other better.

Experience Paves the Way

"All Aboard!" Coach Slocum and Coach Pierce act as the caboose of the football players' train. Shouts filled the gym as students and faculty showed their spirit at a Homecoming pep rally.

"Putting her best foot forward!"
Coach Tammy Jo Hope knows just the way to start the morning off right. She is full of energy and excitement as she anticipates the approaching day.

New Kids on the Block

"Working the day away!" Matt Hickman and Alicia Kelly take advantage of their study hall. Students love being able to get a head start on some of their homework during school hours.

"I hope that I don't have to hold this cross for long; it's heavy!" David Bushey serves as an altar boy during a school Mass. Helping with Masses is a good way to get involved at school.

"Let's get this show on the road!" Katherine Mann, Banky Oderinde, and Mary Beth Kersey cannot wait for the pep rally to begin. Pep rallies are the perfect way to end a day at school.

"I hope these ashes won't smudge!" At the Ash Wednesday Service, Coach Chester Pierce puts a cross of ashes on Daniel Harris' forehead. This is always a moving experience for students.

LUCKY CHARMS

1. KEYCHAINS
2. GUITAR PICKS
3. LUCKY SOCKS
4. NECKLACES
5. FISHHOOKS

"Only the strong survive!" These two seventh grade girls battle against one another on Positive Attitudes' Day. The jousting game was a tremendous success and caused a lot of laughs.

"It's what's inside that counts!" Bethany Dadisman and Leslie Jerkins trace Lindsey Williams. The seventh grade had a good time drawing the various body systems inside their own outlines.

"How low can you go?" At the Middle School Party, Kenny Epps participates in a lively limbo game. Students showed their amazing flexibility as others wondered how low they really could go.

"Any way you look at it!" Carl Puckett watches an assembly in the gym from his seat on the floor. Although sitting on the floor can be uncomfortable, students enjoy the special programs.

"We've got spirit — How 'bout you?" This group of spirited seventh graders waits for the pep rally to begin. The seventh grade always loves the challenge of trying to out yell the seniors!

"Seizing the Moment!" These seventh graders are all smiles as they return from the middle school retreat. They spent the afternoon helping the community at various service organizations.

Moving on Up in the World

"A winning combination!" Brian Mears and Matthew McCrory review their notes after P.E. class for a test next period. Last minute studying helps keep the information fresh on their minds.

"Taking the initiative!" Nneka Nwosu smiles as she is recognized at the spring sports assembly for her achievements on the track team. Being on the MDS track team takes lots of hard work.

"Catch the spirit!" Karen Marshall, Jennifer Oliver, and Jenna Schmitt are full of team spirit as they loudly cheer their fellow classmates on to victory at the Middle School Field Day.

"Speaking of grandparents ..." Kristi Beall speaks at Grandparents' Day. Parents and grandparents were touched as students sang songs and recited various literary works on this special day.

"What are you lookin' at?" Michael Clowers waits in the middle school yard for his ride. Students have found that after school is a good time to catch up on the latest news with friends.

"Don't worry; Be happy!" Gwen Johnson and Camille Dizon are all smiles on an out of dress code day. Students are always in especially good moods when they get to come to school in jeans.

"Dancin' the night away!" Katherine Harris, Geoff Walker, and Michael Clowers are having a blast at a middle school social. The social was an unforgettable night of dancing, food, and fun.

Everything Under the Sun

"Is that stage left or right?" Aspiring actresses, Molly Hefner, Natalie Andrews, Kate Graves, and Kristen Salinas learn stage directions. Kate's camera captures every theatrical moment.

"This is going to be easy. We have been practicing!" Out on the gym floor, Andrea Tice and Kelly Raines demonstrate to their classmates how well they can do the Student Council dance.

"STOP! Collaborate and listen, Matt is back with a prom edition!" Senior Matt Graycheck is cool as Vanilla Ice himself prom night. He is proud to represent Mr. Ice in his dashing attire.

"I hope that this guys head doesn't fall off!" Brian McBrearty and Kimberly Thomas build a prophet for Sister G's religion class. Building the prophets was a unique hands on approach.

"After the show, I'll sign your program!" Skylar Stull is star struck with excitement before the curtain opens. Performing in The Wiz will give her experience she needs to make it big.

"Walking along, singing a song, side by side!" Junior Matt Robinson and Freshman Sarah Harmon enjoy the school wide lunch where all of the students got to eat lunch with their friends.

"With our powers combined we are ... just three guys standing here!" Senior comrades Chad Elliot, Tim Finney, and Vance Bumgardner come together to bond before they go their separate ways.

"What is so funny David?" Sophomores David Garcia, Royce Collins, and Patrick Cassidy clown around in the hallway before the first bell rings. Laughter is a great way to start the day.

"Girls, just want to have fun!" Junior Teri McCrea is dressed up in a big smile because she knows she is headed for a night full of good times and great fun. What a night to remember.

Part of the Big Picture

"All work and no play!" Andy Blum and Jeff Dadisman study before school starts while waiting for the 8:00 bell. At Mount de Sales studying is a large part of every student's life.

"Slow and steady wins the race!" Kristen Croom and Haley Crawford walk to class after a program. Students love having the opportunity to come together as a school during the assemblies.

"Flashback to the 70's!" These spirited freshmen proudly parade around the gym on Dress-up Day during Homecoming. Each home-room sends their best-dressed students to compete in the parade.

"I passed my test!" Michael Grimsley joyfully celebrates passing his geography exam. Making good grades provides students with a needed boost to get through a long, tough day at school.

"If benches could talk!" Lindsay Richardson and Amy Laughter chat before school on their favorite bench. That bench is a popular place for students to hang-out while they are not in class.

"They huffed and they puffed ..." These boys lost their breath blowing up the balloons for their class' balloon tower. The Positive Attitudes Day games taught students the value of teamwork.

"Worth looking into!" Tabatha Roberson and Michael Stallings are reading Great Expectations in their English class. They love the opportunity of reading new books and learning new things.

"Who needs to stand in line on chicken day? Carlton brings his own!" Carlton McMillan shows off his new feathered friend. The chicken was sure to bring a smile to all the students' faces.

Getting a Fresh Start

"Who's for a good game of dress-up?" Ryohei Matsumoto, Michael Slonaker, and Shane Stokes are decked out in their finest as they wait to perform their class' skit during Homecoming week.

"Hats off to you!" Sarah Burch and her hat were a huge hit on hat day. MDS was dotted with hats of every possible color, size, and shape as students tipped their hats to their teachers.

"All tied up in knots!" This group of freshmen enjoy themselves at their class retreat. They especially loved the string game when they shared various ideas about helping the environment.

"Quiet — Genius at work!" Kristen Croom studies for her upcoming geometry test during her lunch period. Lunch is a great time to get help from your peers if you don't understand something.

"Mount de Sales is like a gigantic bunch of great friends. I love it here!" — Josh Pacosa

The Second Time Around

"Pancakes anyone?" Becky Kersey graciously offers to share her appetizing pancakes with her friends. An energizing breakfast made by student council is a terrific way to start the day.

"What goes up must come down!" Amanda Ferrara waits expectantly for her football to go through the hoop in the girls' football relay. Positive Attitudes Day included many class games.

"Step back boys — the next relay is all mine!" Royce Collins, Adrianna Jackson, and Brandon Geddis watch the Positive Attitudes Day festivities with excitement as they cheer on their class.

"You're not going to believe this but ... " Mandy McClung chatters about the new hat she bought for Hat Day as she makes her way through the crowd of people in Mercy Hall to her next class.

You couldn't have studied and made this grade. . . I told you so. . . If you'd only worked a little harder. . . Get a haircut.

"We've got the look!" Kate Haney and Terri Tyson smile from ear to ear. On Positive Attitudes Day, delicious food, class spirit, and smiling faces stretched as far as the eye could see.

"Stop, look, and listen!" Blake Ballard, Land Bonner, and John Hurley always enjoy the assemblies in the gym. The special schedules on those days help to add a bit of variety to school.

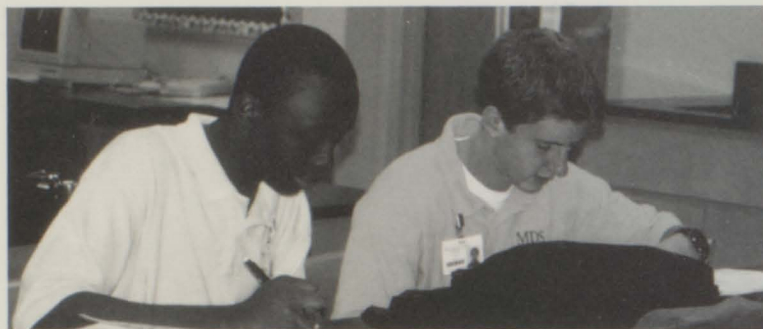

"Getting to know you!" Lea Mitchell introduces herself to one of her future classmates at new student orientation. New students enjoyed meeting people before school actually started.

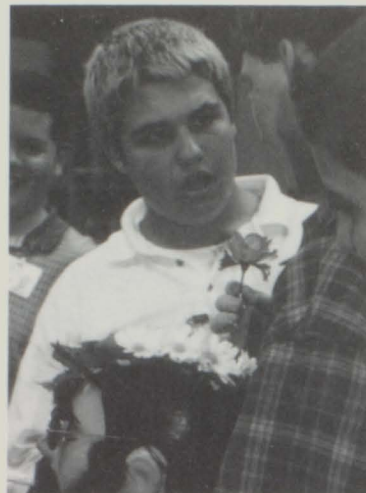

"Go Colonel, go Colonel!" Wes Nichols stunned the school when he arrived on Hat Day with a chicken perched on his head. Laughter filled the halls as the bird nodded to the passing faculty.

So Far, So Good

"Making the Grade" Before school Royce Collins and Daniel Castresana rush to finish reviewing for their algebra test. Homeroom provides an excellent place for that last minute studying.

"Flower Power" Justin Trentadue decides where the final flower should be put on the homecoming disco dancer. His careful attention to detail helped the sophomores win this competition.

Second To None

"We can't wait for the reception!" Jennifer Nelson and Keri Beth Tidmore talk with Keri Beth's parents after the National Honor Society Inductions. Parents always enjoy these occasions.

"Speed is everything!" Tyler Cribb watches as Nick McClendon prepares to break the speed pitch record. This was just one of the activities from Student Council on Positive Attitudes' Day.

"Now how am I supposed to fit this in my locker!" Carman Bell struggles to get the books she needs from her locker before the bell rings. Going to your locker can be a trying experience.

"Have you hugged a tree today?" Molly Rowland and her new friend plant a tree together at the Nickelodeon Big Help-a-thon. People of all ages came together to improve Central City Park.

"Holy Cow — I have fabulous legs!" Defending champion Justin Trentadue competes in the Best Legs Contest on Positive Attitudes' Day. This competition, judged by the faculty, brings a lot of laughs.

"Diggin' the day away!" John Norfleet digs with all his might at the Nickelodeon Big Help. John and other concerned students from Macon helped to plant a garden at Central City Park.

"Holding their own!" Chad Stefano, Ryan Leonard, and Chad Folsom cringe under the weight of the sophomores' pyramid on Positive Attitudes' Day. Being the bottom of the pyramid is no laughing matter.

"The silence is deafening!" Justin Bundrage, Florence Bivins, and Kirk Davenport listen intently to a guest speaker. Students are amazed at what they learn if they take time to listen.

"Where, oh where can my homeroom teacher be?" Julia Brost-Clark waits for a teacher to unlock her homeroom. Coming to school early gives students time to think about the approaching day.

Looking Beyond the Edge

"I don't think that's funny!" Junior Dyana Davis has something to laugh about during second period English class but her classmate Zack Dadisman doesn't think it's a laughing matter.

"Love this wig!" Rob Chandler shows his school spirit and good sense of humor by participating in the junior class skit during Homecoming. The outfit wouldn't be the same without the wig.

"This is a wonderful day for a picnic!" Rebecca Raffield enjoys lunch with her parents and the chance to eat in the sun. The parent - student lunch is a big part of Homecoming Week.

"Now, what book did I need again?" Sean Coleman searches frantically through his locker for the book that he needs for his next class. Students race the bell to get to class on time.

2. PROM
3. JUNIOR RETREAT
4. POSITIVE ATTITUDES DAY
5. HOMECOMING

"How am I ever going to remember all of this?" Molly Hefner concentrates hard on the last minute studying she is squeezing in before her morning exam. Exam week is full of studying.

"It's the Three Amigos!" Jeffery Bester, Sean Hickey, and Micah Cooper relax during their lunch and enjoy each other's company. These three peas in a pod love to just sit and discuss.

"Howdy, partner!" Wearing his favorite Western hat, John McBrearty takes part in the Hats Off to a Teacher Day sponsored by Student Council. He gives an added thumbs up to his teachers.

"Walk the walk and talk the talk!" On their way to the gym, John Zebell and Chrissy Waterman stroll casually down the breezeway with style. They strut their stuff without missing a step.

The Millenium's Edge

"Lost in reflection!" Andy Knight and Ben Jones listen carefully to the speaker at the junior retreat. Later, they played games, attended a prayer service, and spent time with friends.

Where the Sidewalk Ends

"What is going on over there?"
Rachel Spradley and David Puryear gaze with wonder at the other side of the trapezoid. Something exciting is always happening on the Mount de Sales campus.

"It's a bright, bright sunshiny day!"
Junior Manoela Carneiro shows the world what a fantastic day she is having by her big smile. Not even the studying she is doing can dampen her day.

"My thinking cap is on and I am ready for class!"
Becky Reese sits wondering about the new things she will learn today in Trig. Her hat helps her concentrate and absorb lots of knowledge.

"Melissa, me and you are like peas and carrots!"
Ross Crumbley and Melissa Washburn enjoy each other's company and the Junior-Senior prom. Their night in the Orient was one to remember.

"What was I about to say?" Jared In-taphan concentrates and tries to remember the important thing he was about to say. The feet popping out in front of him disrupted his train of thought.

"I'm so nervous, I have butterflies!" Mike Flanders, Tim Price, and Amanda Higdon wait patiently for their speaking parts in the Moving Up Day assembly. Hope they remember their lines.

"Daydream believer!" Jennifer Puckett daydreams. Wonder what she is thinking about? Perhaps she is planning the next Mount de Sales pep rally or skit or maybe just enjoying the moment.

"Let's get started and quick!" These junior, soon to be senior boys, wait for the Moving Up Day assembly to begin. With the excitement about becoming seniors, they just can't sit still.

"Now that the hard part is over, what am I going to do for lunch?" Now a Senior, Danny Snyder thinks about what to do with his afternoon. Seniors are given the day off after Moving Up.

It's been a long year but we're...

STILL IN ONE PIECE

1999: ONE last year for the senior class to make MDS history!

How do I Look?
Katie Mayers finds that it is more fun to dress up herself than the disco dancer. During Homecoming Week, classes compete to see who has the best dressed dummy. This activity is a class tradition that has always proven to be lots of fun.

Balancing classes, sports, play rehearsals, and club activities with just having fun was both challenging and exhausting, but it was a year of good times and GREAT memories.

Though a diverse CLASS with different interests and talents, the class of 1999 was UNITED in their spirit. The lessons they have learned, both in and out of class, are bound to stay with them FOREVER.

"Man these pancakes are good!" Robert Snider and Eric Sessions enjoy the Student Council-sponsored pancake breakfast on Student Appreciation Day. This was only one of the many activities planned for Catholic Schools Week.

Finally Seniors!

These seniors enthusiastically help incoming freshmen learn the ropes at New Student Orientation in August. They know that being a senior means sharing the things that they have learned in their years of experience.

"When I was a freshman, becoming a senior seemed so far away..." Will Hefner sits contemplating what the future holds for him next year. Will is amazed at how far he has come and how much he has accomplished in the last four years at Mount de Sales.

"So what you're saying is..."
At the pancake breakfast, Elizabeth Coleman tries to grasp what her friends are telling her.

If you could start over as a Freshmen,
what would you do differently?

“ I wouldn't start over because then I wouldn't have learned these life lessons.

I would volunteer more in the Macon community and be more active at school.

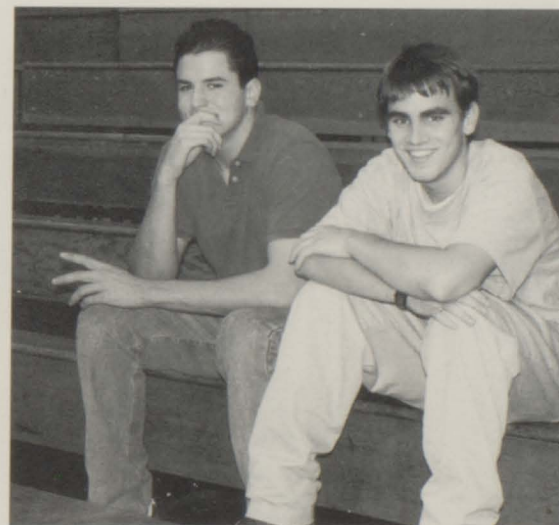

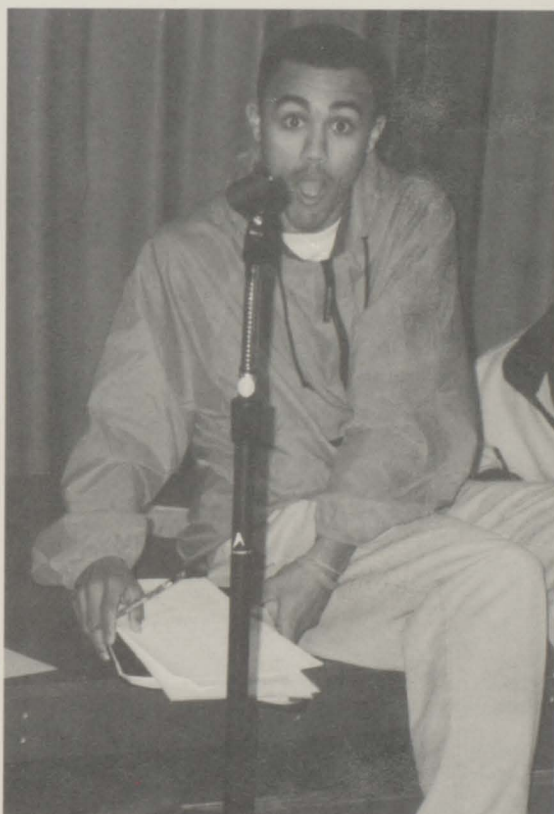

I would get my work done and start off making honors.

I would have more fun and not worry as much about what people think of me.

Mind, Body, and Spirit

"Hmm, who should I write?"

At a retreat, Suzanne Maddox writes to a friend in the class. All the Seniors wrote a letter to a classmate.

"We are the big, bad, mighty Senior boys, and we're ready to take on the world!" These guys have fun together at the last retreat.

"Kelly, it really isn't that funny." During the lunch break at the retreat, Kris Harris and Kelly Dessart think something is truly hilarious.

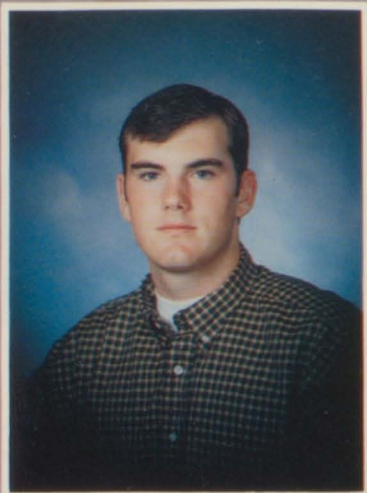

"Seniors Rule!!" Taking advantage of a Senior tradition, Turner Oppy and his classmates run across campus on the last day of school.

"This is it buddy!" Wayne Andrews and Vance Bumgardner give each other one last playful punch on the last day of school.

"Welcome to King Henry's Feast." Jonathan Akin proudly wears his House of Lancaster crown while enjoying the royal entertainment.

"Fun in the sun!" After the Senior Honors program, this group of Seniors left for a weekend at Universal Studios and Pleasure Island.

"One of these people just doesn't belong. Can you guess who?" This group of Seniors is joined by the "hot tub girl" late Friday night.

"Bring on the first remove!" In order to receive dinner, the guests at King Henry's Feast had to call to the kitchen for their first course of food.

"Michelle, get that off Andrea's head!" Taking a break from riding the movies, Andrea Tice and Michelle Craig chill outside the hat shop.

"Hey Leslie, did you see what I just saw?" Seniors Sara Hill and Leslie Witherington react with the same expression for a moment.

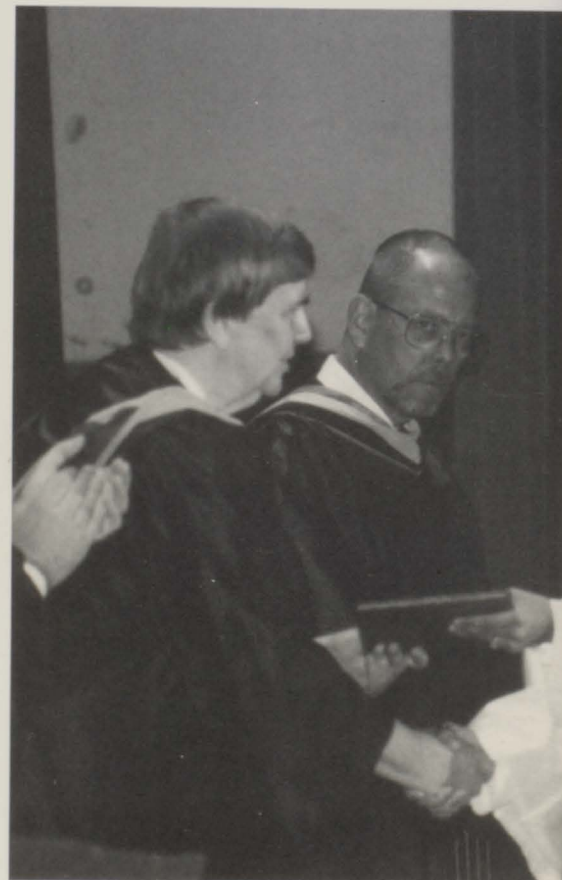

"We look good in these robes!" Jennifer Jaudon and Chris Carrigan aren't one bit nervous before the graduation ceremony.

"I've been waiting for this moment for 12 years!" Proudly accepting his diploma, Glenn Shelby ends his high school career at MDS.

"As you experience the darkness, imagine the cold." At Candlelight, the Seniors listened to what life was like in Jesus' time

I Will Remember You

"It feels great to finally flip this tassel!" Mount de Sales Valedictorian Marla Geddis pauses to enjoy this well earned milestone in her life.

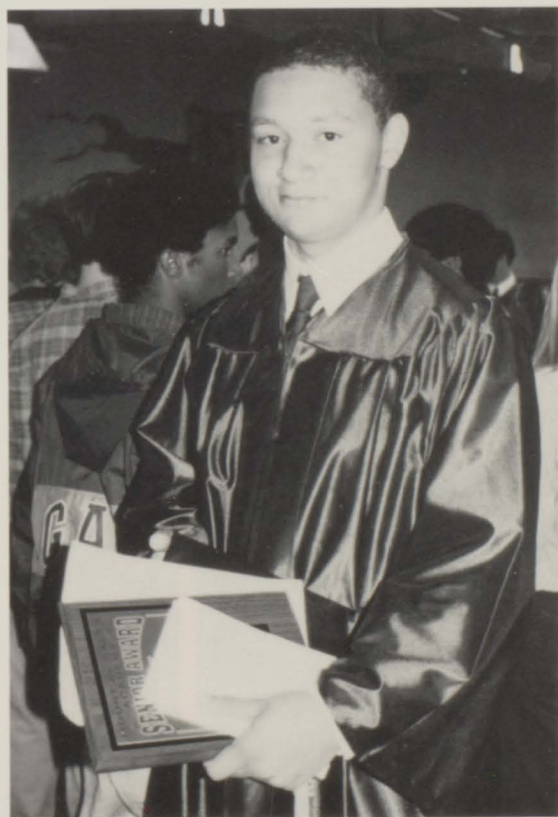

"No matter how far apart we are, we will always be friends!" Senior girls get in a last group hug before the graduation exercises.

"Off we go, into the wild blue yonder." Matt Ritter and Eric Sessions have a bright future ahead of them after graduating from MDS.

"I'm going to remember this for the rest of my life!" Salutatorian Kim Sarabia is all smiles as she takes the stage at graduation.

"So many awards, so little wall space!" Jonathan Canady leaves the Seniors Honors assembly with his certificates and a Senior Plaque.

"Please don't let my hair catch on fire!" Melanie Brown and Jessica Garcia lead the procession at the Candlelight Carol Service.

We're taking it ...

ONE DAY AT A TIME

Classes, friends, homework, jobs, extracurricular activities---

ALL in a day's work for a Mount de Sales student. Fortunately, these students really know how to turn "WORK" into something fun AND exciting. Whether it is by serving others, by publishing student literary efforts, or by putting on a magnificent PLAY, they definitely make sure that student life at Mount de Sales is anything and everything but dull and boring.

The Best of Friends

Freshman Gina Trentadue and eighth grader Brooke Burkhalter give each other a quick hug before rushing off to class. It is important to take time out each day to show someone close to you that you care about them.

"Cool hat, man!!!" Sophomores Mandy McClung and Justin Trentadue show off their awesome hats on "Tip Your Hat to Your Teacher Day" during Catholic Schools Week. Students learned to show some respect and have a little fun at the same time.

B O

Two of a Kind

Freshmen Lydia Sewell and Tala Katner relax and chat after the Student Council-sponsored Pancake Breakfast and wait for the morning bell. There is nothing like spending a little time with friends.

DY

"Flashback from the 70s!!!"

Seniors Carl Merschat and Kris Harris are all decked out in their "groovy" seventies' gear just in time for the disco fever that swept through Mount de Sales during Homecoming Week.

"Oohhh!!! I get it now! — Don't ever tell that silly joke again!" Junior Heather Orange and Sis Audra Orange share a few nonsense jokes at lunch. Even though jokes can get pretty lame, they still manage to have a good time.

"Come and see all of the possibilities that are waiting for you ... at college!!!" These words seem to scream at Junior Rachel Patch as she flips through a college brochure. She's getting ready for some major life decisions!!

"Down space alien mutant!!! ... prepare for your defeat!!!" Freshman Dustin Neiser combats evil graphing calculator germoids and viruses on the Warner Robins school bus. Being a hero helps the trip to school just fly by!!!

"Abracadabra ... bubbling toil and trouble, ... Shazzam!!!" Junior Matt McBride is very enchanting with his mystical moves, piercing eyes, and his oh-so-suave charismatic presence. With his smoothness he can hypnotize anybody!!!

Off To A Fresh Start

"Hey Michelle!!! Just HOW are we supposed to do this!?" "Hmm I'll show you!" Senior Kelly Raines asks Michelle Black how to log in names at the new student orientation. These two helped keep the long day running smoothly.

"You see this watch!?!? It means its time to GO!" Seventh grader Rainy Pearson waits patiently for the next bell to ring. Sometimes class just seems to last for forever!!! Hopefully the bell will be ringing shortly.

"C'mon! Just take my picture already!!!" Seventh grader Patrick Hanson waits impatiently for his student I.D. picture to be taken. It's hard to be all smiles all of the time. Hopefully, he'll muster up a smile for this one!

"Yeah ... all right! Only one more to go!!!" Junior R.P. Rider scratches off yet another line in his homework assignment pad. Going at this lightning fast pace — he'll be done with his work in absolutely no time at all!!!!

"Come see the softer side of ... Student Council!" Junior Kevin Wright passes a funny joke along to his fellow members. Sophomore Lanier Sammons caught the punchline. Even class leaders need to share a relieving laugh.

"You see, stacking and refilling, silverware is a delicate operation. Don't mess with our perfection!" Leslie Witherington and Ashley Harrison fill the utensil containers at the pancake breakfast during Catholic Schools Week.

"I can already hear the change clanging!" Student Council Vice President Marla Geddis cheerfully anticipates the success of this year's Pennies from Heaven. "Generous students can make some children very happy!" says Marla.

Taking Charge

"Hey Pancake!! I'm talkin' to you!!"
"And I'm your superior, Mr. Pancake!!!" While Marla Geddis cleans the griddle, Zack Dadisman, Sean Caufield, Rob Chandler and Taj Middleton all pay homage to those tasty breakfast cakes!

"Just tell them you were sent by the Froot Cow," "F — ROOOT ... cow!!!" Senior Jessica Stinson jams while making an effective fruit sale infomercial. Her little song and dance really got this year's sale moooving!!!

"Gosh! curling ribbon is soo much fun!- only 41 more bags to go!!!" Sophomore Royce Collins curls ribbon on goodies for the annual Kris Kringle shop. With the extra curled pieces, gift packages are extra special to give ... and get!

"Hey! It's Snow White's dwarfs! Hi Happy, Bashful, Grumpy and Doc!!" With mixed emotions at the Stu.Co elections, candidates Keri Beth Tidmore, John Paul Shelby, Lanier Sammons, and Jana Mann just can't hide the way they feel!

Blast From The Past

A Decade Revisited

◆ "Come On Everybody, Show Your Spirit!" Sophomore Lauren LeBlanc shows off a new cheer at the Homecoming Pep Rally. With her school spirit, she fires up the entire student body for an exciting game against George Walton.

◆ "Leave Us And Our Food In Peace!" Sophomores Matthew Gay, John Paul Shelby, and freshman Kristin Taylor all enjoy their Baldinos subs at the Parent Lunch during Homecoming Week. I wonder if all that hair gets in his way!

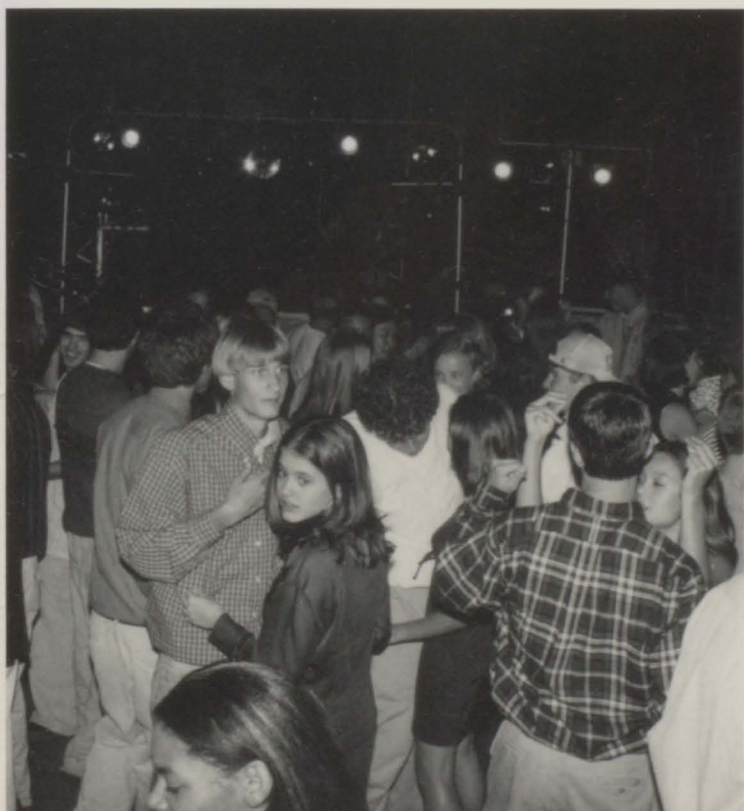

♦“Yes, It’s True. We’ve Come A Long Way, And We Are The Best.” Senior Glenn Shelby keeps your attention by telling how well the football team has progressed during its season. “It’s Great To Be A Part Of Mount de Sales!”

♦“Oh My Gosh! I Am So Glad We Don’t Have To Wear This Stuff Everyday!” Seniors Shell Kurzen, Rebecca Stokes, and Suzanne Mattox have plenty of time to gossip about the weird outfits they see at the hour-long Parent Lunch.

♦What A Blast! Everybody Groove To The Beat! The Homecoming Dance turned out to be a big hit! Immediately after the game, several students came out to the MDS gym to celebrate our big win over George Walton. Let’s boogie!

♦“Peace, Man!” Junior Matt McBride poses for Mrs. Sinksen for an easy way into the yearbook. His new look really adds to his appearance as his mustache, sunglasses, and afro all tie in with the 1998 MDS Homecoming theme.

♦“Wow! Did People Actually Wear Those Kind of Outfits?” Seniors Emily Andrews and Summer Causey walk the usual circle around the gym floor in their best 70s clothes to show off their parents’ style and their school spirit.

◆ "Hey, Huggy Bear!" "Hey, Slick Ricky!" "Let's step to the right, roll it up tight...and groove!" Seniors Brandon Jolley and Taj Middleton bust a move for the school. This soulful performance got the crowd into the festivities.

◆ "Peace, Love, and ... FOOD!" Senior Elizabeth Coleman has much enthusiasm for her lunch. Sandwiches seem a little tastier in the company of good friends and good laughs. Students of all classes enjoyed Parent Lunch Day.

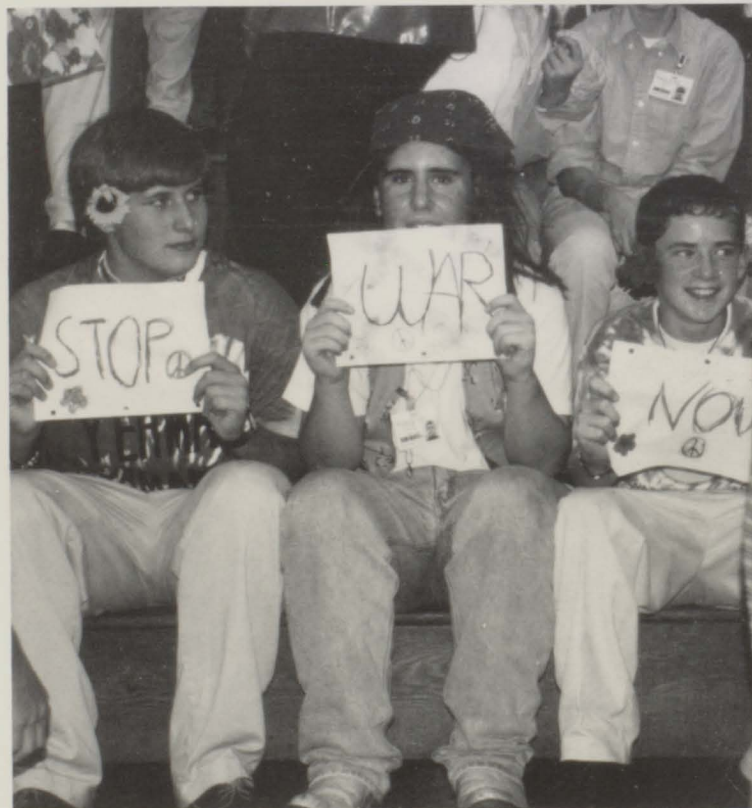

◆ "Don't make me angry. ... you won't like me when I'm angry." Senior Jonathan Akin comes to school decked out in a puffy hulkster wig and ghastly green makeup. Lucky for the innocent bystanders, this monstrous hulk is smiling.

◆ "O.K. Scoob, here's the deal, let's get the snacks and get out of here before we see a..GHOOOST! Juniors Pierce Hale and Ben Huffman dog around as Scooby-Doo and Shaggy during skit night. This skit made the night extra fun.

◆ "Young at heart, but strong in feeling!" Eighth graders Colin Booth, John Michael Cunard, and Blake Chapman display their funky threads as they peacefully protest war. This group made a neat entry in the Best Dressed Contest.

Time Warp

Lacin' Up The Boogie Shoes

◆ "Awww yeah, kick it one more time..!" Junior girls Amber Barham, Katie Thomason, and Kasey Smith are raised to new heights at the bonfire, while still getting "down" and jammin'. Watch out Soul Train.. here they come!!!

◆ "Ladies and gentlemen your 1998 Homecoming Court." Brandon Jolley, Sara Hill, Leslie Witherington, Marla Geddis, Kim Sarabia, Denisha Vinson, Beth Tamboli, Bradley McClung, David Schnell, Taj Middleton, Vari Brown, and Michael Walton.

"Yes they're sisters, identical sisters — they're alike. They smile alike, they talk alike, sometimes they even walk alike!" Deciphering Jenny from Carla Paschke could make you lose your mind ... when sisters are two of a kind!

"Hey Stephen — Yeah Scott? Are you going to the family reunion? It's in Africa. Yep! and I'm bringing the sweet tea!!!" Cousins and faculty members Scott and Stephen Turner catch up on pressing family matters and local news.

"I love you, you love me.. we're the bestest brother and sister duo as there ever could be!" Sean Coleman and sis Erin give each other great big hugs and say they love each other too. Now they're off to save the world!

"Rollin', rollin', rollin', keep the Rowlands rollin' ... around!!!" Molly Rowland and her younger brother Joshua are having a Rowland good time in the middle school yard together. Soon somersaults will fly everywhere!

All in the Family

"Put em up, put em up — stick up your dukes!!!" Showing a more realistic portrayal of family relations — Spencer and Skylar Stull share one of those "rare", and yet "special" family moments. It's great to see them get along.

"Just look over your shoulder baby!!!" Junior Autumn Hutsinger reminds younger sis Amelia that all she ever has to do is just call her name and she'll be there ... to comfort her and fill her world with dreams abounding.

"Can you tell who the Chief is in this family photo?" Mr. Dockrell and son Andrew enjoy special family time before school. Sometimes, if you're lucky, Andrew will even bring his friend "Bill" along for added company and fun.

"One little, two little, three little Dadismans. Five little, six little, Seven little Dadismans ... " NO — they're only four Dadismans here! Standing proud with fellow family members are Bethany, Zack, Mrs. Dadisman, and Jeff.

♦ "Birds enjoy houses with right angles!" Explains Sophomore Phillip Raines as he demonstrates to Junior Katie Hofstader and sophomore Kate Haney the environmentally sound way to construct homes for feathered friends.

♦ "Peek-a-boo, where are you?!" The Environmental Club moderator, Mr. Scott Turner, really has become one with nature ... his camouflage pants blend in well with the natural surroundings!! He collects trash from the outdoors.

♦ "We built this city ... of bird-houses!!!" This bright-eyed and bushy-tailed portion of the Environmental Club rose early to construct livable dwellings for nature's creatures. They are proud of the artistic outcome!

We Are Planetegers!

◆“It’s hard to tell just exactly who’s king of the hill among these spectacular nature lovers!” Dennisha Vinson, Brandon Dodd, Robert Connely, and Phillip Raines lay against sturdy rocks to take a break and enjoy lunch.

◆“We’re not hitch-hikers, just environmentalists!!!!” Sophomores Georgia Ragonetti and Sarah Harrison stroll around the athletic complex and pick up garbage along a roadside to restore the area’s natural, clean beauty.

◆“George, George, George of the Jungle!” “No, ... it’s Rob Chandler of the Environmental Club!!!” Although, he does “watch out for that tree.” — He cleans up harmful pollutants that could affect the surroundings foliage and plant life.

◆“Trying out an ancient Indian tradition of — canoeing!!!! Robert Connely, and Brandon Dodd experience total relaxation as they float down a river and enjoy the sunlight and greeneries!!! Whoa ... watch out for those rapids!!

"Ahh!!! The sweet smell of variety, the spice of life! Juniors Pierce Hale and Russ Ferreyra have taken cultural awareness week as a valuable opportunity to learn about new cultures and enjoy the variety of their world.

"Fa la LAAA!!!" Mrs. Washburn uses dramatic hand gestures to inspire rich soulful harmonies from the chorus member's mouths. While Norman Gonzales pipes out some jammin' tunes from his beautifully played flute.

"Cultural Awareness really opened my eyes to see how special others really are." — Junior Jennifer Van

"It's very interesting to learn traditions of various cultures, and to have others learn more about mine." — Freshman La'Neisha Leslie

"I never realized how truly lucky I am, and have been in the past, until Cultural Awareness week!!!" —Sophomore Land Bonner

By Their Deeds And Not By Their Color ...

"Man!!! These speeches can really make you think!!" Freshmen David Lamour and Cole Miller reflect over the eloquent speeches during the Cultural Awareness program. This reinforced what these students had already learned.

Living The Dream

"That my children will not be judged on the color of their skin, but by the content of their character." Brandon Jolley's moving rendition of Martin Luther King's speech reminded the audience of how far WE have all come.

to reason

"As for me and my people, we'll follow the drinking gourd." Senior Leslee Worrell enchants the school body with a beautiful spiritual story. Cultural Awareness offers the chance to learn diverse traditions and amazing stories!

"Sing out in one strong voice!" The chorus harps out melodious tunes from various cultures. The sounds ranged from spiritual to, well, words of another language! Music is universal, perfect for Cultural Awareness Week!

"Oh! The regal faces of Key Club!"
Senior Michelle Black and sophomore Royce Collins are very proud to show their "K" at the Georgia District Key Club convention in Jekyll Island. The event was full of "sun and fun"!

"Peeeanut ... peanut butter, jelly!!!"
This handy group of Key Clubbers whip up a few hundred sandwiches for the Macon Outreach. The serviceful members hum a little tune to help the spreading of peanut butter go smoothly.

"The key to a good time is games!"
Key Clubbers link arms to join in on a lively game. Club meetings are always so different, ranging from fun and games to guest speakers. Happy faces prove Key Club is fun to be involved in.

Service to Save the Day

"Ribbons of Awareness" Sophomore Keri Beth Tidmore enjoys SADD very much. She is full of spirit as she cuts red ribbons. The ribbons were used to remind students of the high danger of illegal substances and driving.

"Just a typin' away!" Senior Stefano Danese keeps SADD in order through his organizing abilities with spreadsheets and databases a la' computer. Stefano is known to keep SADD in tip top order. Where would they be without him?

"What's in here ... Jack?!" Senior Kim Sarabia jokes around with SADD members concerning the box's contents. As it turns out, the box holds ribbons for the SADD campaign against drunk driving. Kim is proud of SADD's purpose.

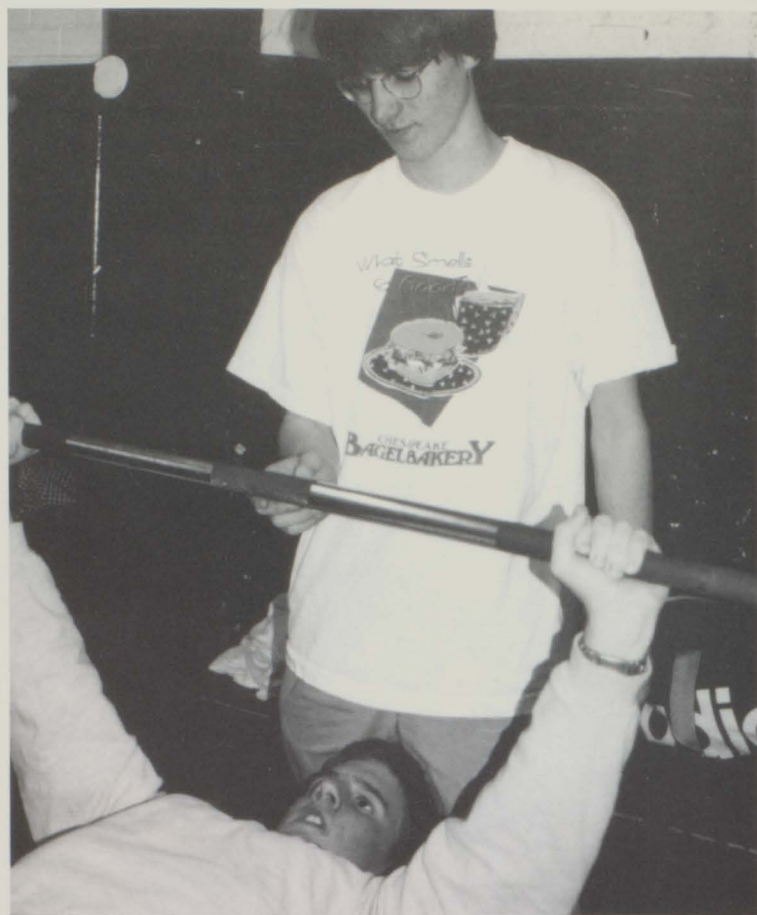

Bottom, L-R: F. Bivins, C. Harrington, S. Danese, J. Canady, L. Davis, T. McCrea, V. Brown, J. LeBlanc, K.B. Tidmore, K. Haney, B. Hartley, J. Garcia, L. Austin, K. Wright, M. Gentry, J. Nelson, E. Mason, L. Gaskins, D. Garcia, E. Huellemeier, E. Andrews, S. Stiff.

"Who's that digging holes? ... The Green Team!" Sophomore Kirk Davenport and his buddy work diligently at digging holes to plant flowers and shrubs. The Environmental Club loves to make the outdoors clean and beautiful.

"He must have eaten his Wheaties!" Sophomore Daniel Castrasana uses his morning power food to help pump the iron. Sophomore Lanier Sammons stands by to assure Daniel's safekeeping. They're "out and about" to get buff!

"You mean, you like ketchup with your eggs?" Senior Robert Snider is surprised and astonished at freshman Katie Fennell's enjoyment of a strange snack. You can certainly learn people's odd taste preferences during lunchtime.

"If I don't look, I'll be just fine!!!" Junior Beth Lorge appears almost nervous as she prepares to give blood. If facing a fear is required, Beth will certainly do so, because she is all "about" giving service to others.

We're Out and About

"In the spotlight!!!!" Sophomores Ben Washburn and Dallas Williams enjoy recognition for participation on the track team. Mt. De Sales is proud of their accomplishment and shows this to the student body during an assembly.

"Up close and personal." Mary Catherine Smith is prepared to bond and share feelings with her junior classmates at their retreat. Each grade level goes on a retreat for a day of fun, relaxation, and certainly becoming closer.

"The Mastermind of Homework!!!!" Freshman Joseph Irwin munches a lunch and saves time to crunch math equations. It's amazing the energy a turkey sandwich and grapes can provide for the mind! Not to mention the great taste!

"Peek-a-boo ... I see you!!!!" Sophomore Phillip Raines decided to joke around with his junior friend Chrissy Waterman with a little game of hide and go seek. The moment tickled her pink. It is good to share a time of laughter!

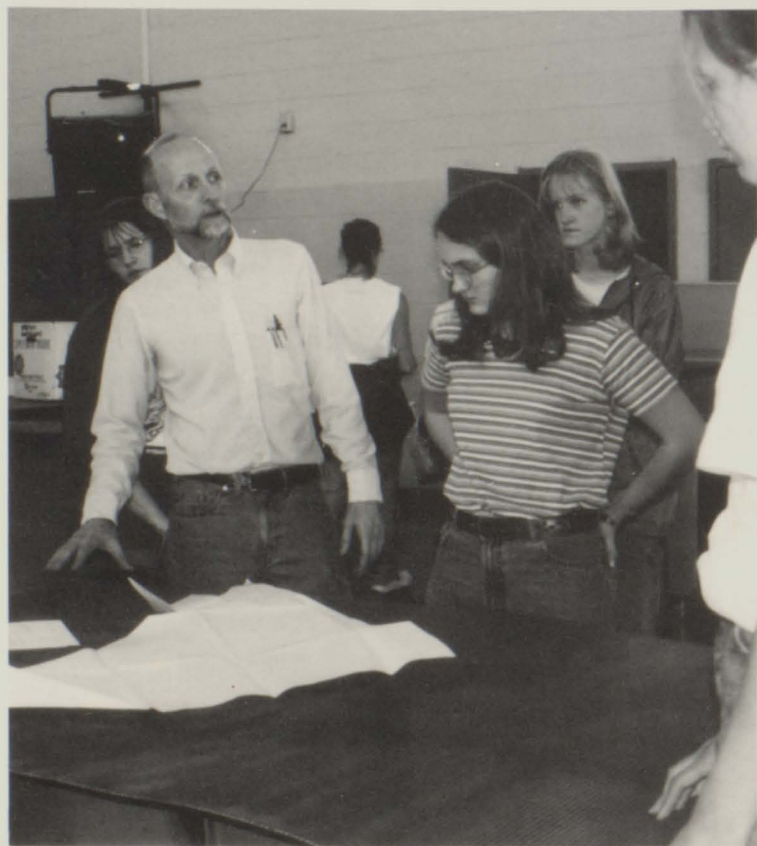

"Doing these flower arrangements is pretty much a cut and dry job!" Junior girls Kate Graves, Keely Stanley, and Tabatha LeMaster cut the dried-esque flowers for the soon to be table decorations. Splendid job, floralists!

"Hmm — that fan looks crooked — maybe we should rearrange them!!" Juniors Pierce Hale and Kate Graves eye the lopsided date wall while Tabatha LeMaster prepares to send more fans up. They weren't so crooked after all!

"You see.. we are going to take this material, fold it once or twice.. and poof! We have a beautiful swan!!!" Mr. McLachlan explains the intricate, tedious work that lies ahead for the juniors. They can't wait to get a goin'!

"Ommm ... Ommm, we're harnessing our Chi!!!" Junior guys Steve Fennell and Jason Grizzard pretzel into some pretty twisted positions to cut around the fine, delicate lines. Next they'll be doing some yoga to help draw circles!

Building The Orient

"Paste your paper on, get your scissors out, paste your paper on and construct it all about!" Juniors work diligently to make the massive prom decorations. When done, they'll be able to "shake it all about" without worry.

"Like a butterfly emerging from her cocoon ... stretch, stretch, stretch...!" Junior Jennifer Ray reaches far and wide to accurately measure the correct amount of paper needed to build a towering background for the photos.

"Oh come on!!! You gotta stick!!!" Junior Keely Stanley strategically applies the magical date wall fans to ... the date wall!!! Let's hope stickin' those push pins in will hold up the fans for the duration of the evening.

"I swear man, the pagoda is going to be phat ... really!!!" Junior Steve Fennell explains his plans to fellow co-worker David Brenneman for making a gigantic, red pagoda for prom. Hopefully his exuberance will last all day.

Tearin' It Up

"Before you can read me — you gotta learn how to see me!!!" Seniors April Lewis and Vari Brown free their minds as they stride down the catwalk at Senior Leadout. They will soon be announced along with their fellow classmates.

"Hey — hey, we're the Monkees, people say we monkee around!!!" Ladies Rachael Patch, Alysson Pohl, Rebecca Raffield, and Laura Perazola attempt to cut a rug at the prom. But they're too busy dancin' to turn anybody down.

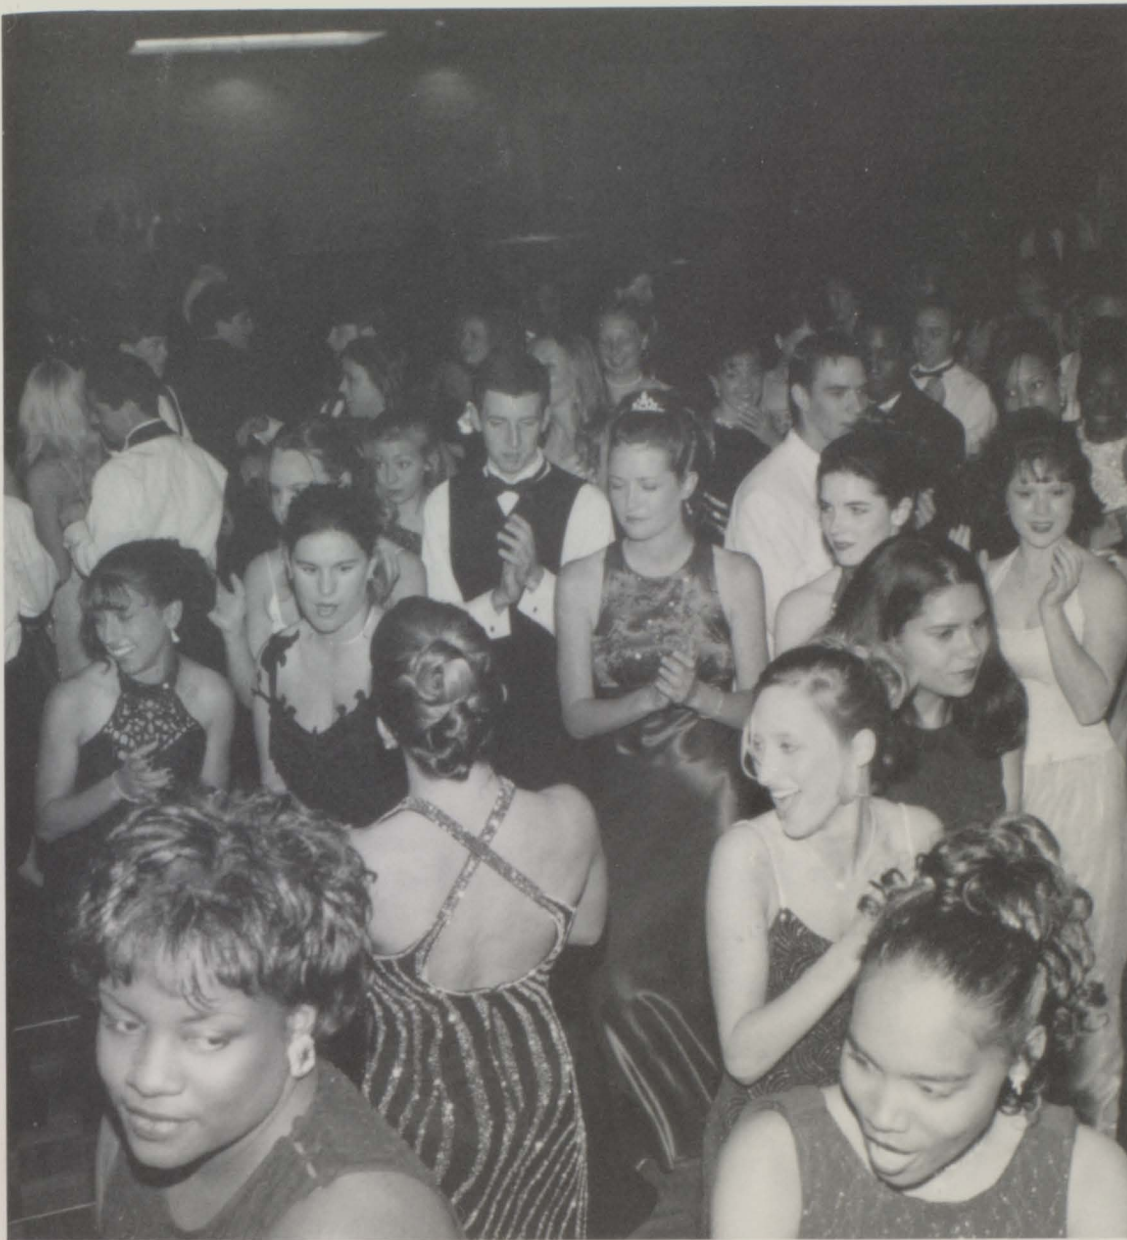

"If all the datewalls were Mandie Reynolds' datewalls, ... Oh what datewalls they would be!!!" Senior Mandie Reynolds and date pick up their FAN-tastically made datewalls from the prom. They probably found their fan in no time.

"I get lost ... in your eyes!!!" Junior Matt Robinson and date Amy Laughter feel their spirits rise as they are captivated by the essence of prom. They sway to the soulful music, and are entranced by the harmonious beat

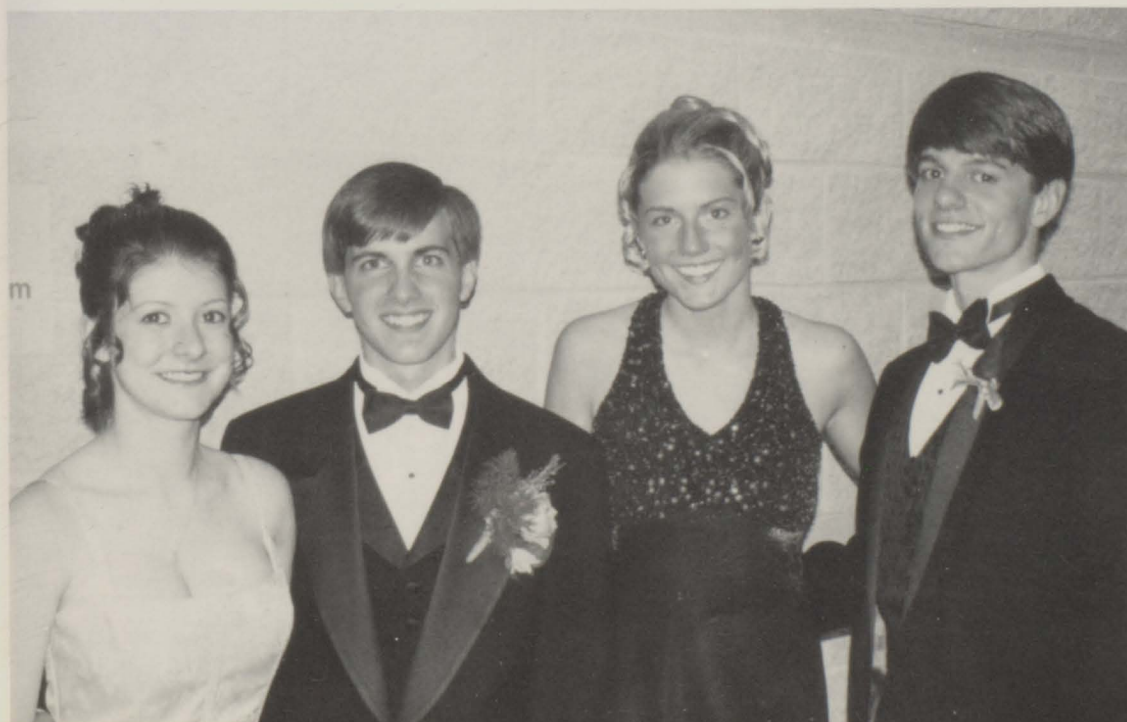

"Shake it to the left, shake it to the right ... !!!" These Juniors and Seniors seem to know what they like when it comes down to getting funky of the dance floor. They're gonna shake it till they can't shake it no more.

"I don't wanna wait in this line for much longer ... !!" Senior Melanie Brown wants to know how long the wait will be.. before she can finally get out on the dance floor and show everybody her smooth, suave moves.

"You should dance ... You should jive, having the time of your life!!!" Junior Lori Leslie skips out on being the dancing queen for this song and instead opts for a relaxing break that will rest her tired tootsies.

"Oh!! oh what a feelin' ... when we're dancing on the ceilin'!!!" Georgia Ragonetti, John Zebell, Lindsay Richardson, and Robert Connely are firmly grounded before they go off to that dance floor in the sky — the ceiling that is!

"It looked so much easier on the infomercial!" These students stand in a chuckle of agreement — camping outdoors looks like harder work than they expected. Earth Day offered handy tips for them to become outdoor pros.

"This here is a log. It comes equipped with your basic needs ... toothpaste, saltines, and sunglasses." This forest ranger was invited to our Earth Day celebration to inform students about trees' many diverse uses.

"Ahh ... This is going to be my very famous masterpiece!" With a few final brush strokes, senior Brinson Orr puts the finishing touches on his chirpingly bright birdhouse. All the birdies will fight over this house's ownership!

"I built this house ten years ago, but I didn't expect this much shrinkage!" The electricity demonstrator awed this group of youngsters with his knowledge of electricity! It's "shocking" how interesting this stuff can be!

Earth, Fire, Wind, Water ... Heart

"Hrmmph ... hrmmph ... fire good ... fire hot ... fire melt my plastic watch!!!!" Junior Kevin Wright gazes in wonderment as he starts up a killer campfire in the trapezoid for Earth Day. Keep an eye out for some toasty, gooey watch.

"Just sit and be one, feel the energy pulsing and vibing through your enlightened soul." Mrs. Dohn mellows out while reading soothing passages that will send her Earth Day students into an unforgettable meditation bliss.

"You approach a clearing in the forest where butterflies flit and daisies bloom ... the sound of children's laughs are far in the distance ..." Junior Zack Dadisman floats off into ethereal enchantment as he meditates.

"I'm glad this isn't a dress rehearsal!!!!" Being Peter Pan is a possibility for junior Jonathan Ducote. With a few heaves and hos from his fellow classmates, his harnessed body with go flying through the air. Shadow and all.

Smiles from Ear to Ear

"Go Go Gadget jousting stick!!!"

These adventurous Mt. De Sales students go to the extreme as they bonk each other's noggins, exciting the audience. Their goal is to knock the other down, and then become the master gladiator!

"Wow, these remind me of Runts candy!" Freshman Sarah DeLoach jokes around with her classmates. She steadily attaches balloons to together to create a massive balloon tower. The ninth grade hopes to bring on a winning success.

"Batter, batter, batter ... out of the way!" Seventh grader Eric Roberts is completely focused on ringing the batting cage's target. He uses strength and endurance to accomplish this goal. He is quite impressive to onlookers.

"Now I know my ABC's, won't you sing along with me!" The sophomores participate as an entire class in spelling out large arial-view letters with merriment. Examples of the words they spelled were "sophomores" and "positive".

"Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall ... Humpty Dumpty had a great fall!!!" All of the sophomore class' participants in the pyramid race rushed to get in their distinguished place. As the rules go, you can't put Humpty together again!!

"Making billowing puffs of cotton candy isn't so sweet after all!" Tenth grader Jana Mann has experienced the sticky mess of cotton candy cooking. Freshmen Ashley Harrison happily gave this rare opportunity to her bud.

"Don't move one bit.. you may receive a new sort of tattoo!!!" Seventh grader Katie Wright sits patiently while awaiting a masterpiece of a turtle from Senior Shell Kurzen. Face painting added a creative touch to the day.

"Cluck, cluck..pecking at the cotton balls!!" Junior Melissa Rosa finds the most efficient way to get a cotton ball on her nose is to make like a chicken! She hurried back to fellow students to cash in on time ... and points!

"Ohhh, show us that silky smooth skin!" Senior Ben Hubbard holds nothing back to show off his well defined, gorgeous set of legs. He competes against others in the best legs contest and is POSITIVE that he's going to win.

"And it's one, two, three strikes you're out at the ol' ball game!" Junior John Zebell, eighth grader Brooklyn Punziano, freshman Shane Stokes, and Senior Andrew Jenkins look very involved in America's greatest pastime.

"Why does he always have to be the center of attention?!" Senior David Grinstead is circled by people. Every character seems to shower him with adoration. Well, playing the part of Charlie Brown does call for much attention!

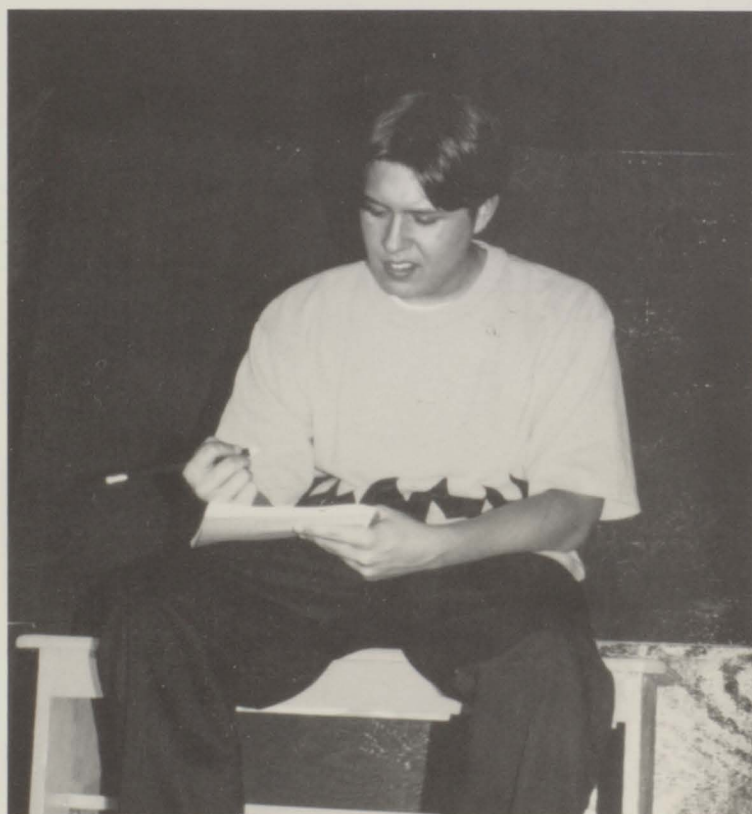

"Hellloooo.. anybody out there?!?" Senior Andrew Jenkins fits the part of Snoopy to a "T" — terrific! Atop the famous red doghouse, he is on the lookout for his fellow characters ... Charlie Brown, Lucy, and The Red Baron.

"The throw of the mighty, the speed of lightning!" Junior John Zebell shouts out in exclamation "wowsers!" as he catches the baseball in astonishment. Acting brings out the liveliness and excitement of real life situations.

"Somewhere out there ..." Senior Troubadour David Grinstead plays the part of Charlie Brown. Charlie chooses the perfect words for a letter to his penpal. He wishes all is well and the distance won't keep them apart for long.

A Good Ol' Singing Time

"It runs in the family." The acting family that is!! The Mount de Sales Troubadours proudly present "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" and display their unlimited talent in the spring musical. They put on a stunning show.

"I can't bear to part with my security blankie!!!" Freshman Shane Stokes snuggles with his downy soft blankie and sings about the joys and comforts that a single, blue blankie can bring. Linus needs his security blanket.

"Kibbles and Bits pleeease, I'm hungry!!!" Senior Andrew Jenkins uses his talent to portray a hungry Snoopy. Hopefully his longing "puppy eyes" can win him over a big, tasty bowl of Kibbles and bits and bits and bits ...

"Well, my love, you can kiss my hand!" Sophomore Natalie Andrews appears lovestruck and dreamy in her part as Lucy. Junior John Zebell stands by wondering if he should, indeed, partake in the offer. She struck a chord.

◆“Things Just Keep Getting Better And Better!” Eighth grade students prove that they are having loads of fun at the Middle School party put on by their very own Student Council. This group of friends can groove to the music!

◆“This Place Will Be Decorated By The Time We Finish!” Seventh graders Katie Wright and Lacey Young smile as they beautify the Children’s Hospital with handmade flowers and hearts. The Builder’s Club must have put them up to this!

Learning To Lead!

♦"We Know How To Party!" Eighth graders Samantha Chronister and Marisa Castresana show off their dancing skills at the Student Council party. These girls know how to have fun and make the best of their middle school years!

♦"Doughnuts! Get Your Fresh Hot Doughnuts!" Eighth graders Jenna Schmitt and Camille Dizon express the importance of not only buying doughnuts, but also benefiting their worthy cause, the Iodine Deficiency Project. Mmm, yummy!

♦"Aren't These Flowers Beautiful?" Seventh grader Molly Smyth helps make and pass out paper flowers to the children at the Children's Hospital for Mother's Day. They probably enjoy all that the Builder's Club does for them.

♦"We Both Are Definitely Learning More!" Seventh grader Marybeth Kersey helps to tutor a child at Booker T. Washington Center as part of a Builder's Club activity. Mount de Sales students are there when you need them to be!

Always the "ladies man." Between coaching, teaching, and hanging out with students, Mr. Garvin has rarely had any spare time.

He'll always tell you that she is his better half. Mr. Garvin and his wife, Carolyn Garvin, taught a marriage class together from 1976 to 1990.

Mr. Mike Garvin began teaching at Mount de Sales Academy in 1967, having had eight years of teaching and coaching experience at Willingham High School, the forerunner of Southwest.

In his thirty-two years here, Mr. Garvin has taught a marriage course with his wife and every math course except AP Calculus. He has also coached almost every sport except soccer.

"I wish everybody at Mount de Sales a lot of success and a lot of happiness. It's been a great experience."
Coach Mike Garvin

"I knew we should have gone over that play again!" Coach Garvin has always strived for perfection, not only in football, but also in the classroom.

Do these faces look familiar? Two of them should! Coach Mike Garvin and Coach Chester Pierce pose with other 1976 football coaches.

Thank You Mr. Garvin

Math, Sports, and So Much More

"When Coach Garvin was hired as Athletic Director/ Head Football Coach/ Math Teacher at Mount de Sales, our athletic program was already in place. But the program was in its infancy, was unorganized and many coaching turnovers were occurring. From 1963 through 1966, there were three head coaches. When Coach Garvin came to Mount de Sales, he gave our program experience and stability. He came to MDS dedicated to the student/athlete and he is responsible for the growth and strength of our program today. I will miss him as a coaching legend, as an outstanding math teacher, and as a special person."

Coach Chester Pierce

"It's a long day ahead, but I'm ready!" Mr. Garvin is known for starting off every class with a reading from his Guidepost devotional.

"All right, now. There's no reason for bunny ears!" Mr. Garvin is always a good sport when the camera comes around.

We know there's only...

ONE PATH TO GLORY

Mount de Sales athletes know that the drive for the win is strong and the competition is fierce. But knowing that the entire MdS family is PULLING for them

makes these athletes work even harder. MdS teams show that confidence, good sportsmanship, and the ability to work TOGETHER

are necessary FOR a successful season. Our swim team especially proved this by capturing the coveted

NUMBER ONE spot in the state in their first year in the GISA.

What??!!
Freshman Varsity softball player Jessie Rosa struggles to make out Coach Hatcher's directions. The softball diamond is a busy place for these girls, and they are not going to risk missing any valuable coaching instructions.

"Don't give up! We can still do this! You just gotta have HOPE!" Coach Hope gives the B-team girls' basketball players an encouraging pep talk during a timeout. Her inspiring words helped the girls pull off this tough game with a uncomfortably close win.

You can't stop me!!!
MdS B-team soccer players are bad to the bone, and they know it. Try as they might, their opponents simply cannot penetrate the awesome MdS defense. What more could you expect from the mighty CAVALLIERS?

"Outta my way!!!" Senior Varsity football player Jeffrey Crumbley makes his way towards the field goal to score one for the home team. The opposing defense had better clear a path because there is no stopping this man with a mission.

OVERCOMING ODDS

♦"It's Good!" As senior Michael Walton steadily holds the ball, junior Nick Richardson attempts to successfully kick a field goal and bring the Cavaliers three points closer to another glorious victory over their opponents.

♦"Charge!" The excitement of the crowd intensifies as the Cavaliers explode onto the field at the beginning of another thrilling game. Many MDS fans come to every game to show their support of the team throughout the seasons.

♦"Thank you for another successful season ..." Senior Ben Hubbard delivers a touching prayer at the fall sports recognition assembly before the players are awarded for their many accomplishments during the eventful season.

FOOTBALL

♦"Outta my way!" Senior Michael Walton tears through the Westfield defense, charges across the line of scrimmage, and runs for a touchdown. Michael's skill as a wide receiver was a major asset to the team this season.

♦“Please, Lord, protect us from injury ...” Coach Don Sherwood leads the players in a brief prayer for safety and success before the beginning of the game. Religion plays a major role in every aspect of Mount de Sales life.

♦“Raise the Roof!” Junior David Brennaman proudly cheers his teammates on to victory with his encouraging screams. Enthusiastic support from both the stands and the sidelines is vital to the team’s performance at every game.

♦“Thinking Deep Thoughts ...” Head coach Robert Slocum looks over the field and decides which play best fits the situation. The combination of experienced coaches and excellent players is a major part of the team’s success.

♦“Alone in the open field ...” Junior Andy Knight is left open by the defense of the opposing team to grab a short pass. Andy’s contribution as a running back was extremely valuable to the team’s performance this year.

SNAPPING INTO ACTION

"Where do you think you're going young man?" Freshman Carlton MacMillan shows his opponent that he has to ask permission to leave. This guy has to learn the hard way.

Q:

What can you say about this year's JV Football team?

A:

"I'm gonna miss JV Football sooo much."

-Lee Matthews

"Get off of me!" Eighth grader Franklin Smith manages to hold on to the ball despite being under such great pressure. It seems that these Cavaliers come out on top in all situations.

"Here comes the Cavalry!" Freshman Cole Keelver gallops towards the end zone with scoring another Cavalier goal on his mind. Opposing teams beware.

Eighth grader Katie Hatcher tips her hat to the crowd as she rounds first base. If this girl runs any faster, she'll probably come out of her shoes.

PITCHING A FIT

"Do you want to battle with me?"
Eighth grader Audra Nessing looks more like she's having a sword-fight than swinging a baseball bat. Audra is a force to be reckoned with.

"She's OUT!" Freshman Lindsay Richardson guides the ball into just the right place to put another strike-out down in the books. This look of determination frightens opponents.

"Who can help at the Cavalier Fields next saturday?" Coach Chester Pierce finds time in between innings to "recruit" some of his softball players for school service.

"Smack that ball!" Eighth grader Brooke Burkhauler uses good mechanics and a sharp eye to send the ball screaming into deep left field. With a swing like that, opposing teams are sure to be in trouble for years to come.

"She's in there!" Sophomore Jessie Rosa uses her speed and agility to easily score yet another run for the Lady Cavaliers. Jessie sparks fear in the eyes of the catcher as she come steaming down the line towards home plate.

Lena Mathis-
"We were always a team and we always had something to laugh about."

Sara Hill-
"I'm glad I got to play on the new fields before I graduated."

Beth Tamboli-
"One of my best memories is eating frozen grapes between games."

"I hope that doesn't hit my car." Senior Jessica Stinson rounds first base, watching the ball glide slowly over the outfield fence. She crosses her fingers, praying that she doesn't have to pay for another windshield.

"On your mark, get set, ... cut!!!" These senior girls break in their new softball home with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The Lady Cavs would then show their hospitality to the opposing team by defeating them in a double-header.

♦"Just A Little Bit Farther To Go!"

Freshman Brandt Orr is tiring fast while he runs in to complete the race. He can't wait to cross the finish line so he can catch his breath again. Brandt never knew he could get so tired.

♦"Can We Pray Now, Please?" As a normal routine, the cross country team takes time to reflect in prayer before their meet. This meditation helps them to gather their thoughts and focus on doing their best in the race.

How has this year differed from past seasons?

"With all the injuries this year, the initial outlook was not so good, but our skills and teamwork took us to fourth in State."

Adam Koetter

How have you grown as a player?

"Each year I gain something new by watching the members on the team. This year I had the chance to put those things to use, and I have become more involved in the games."

Russ Ferreryra

"Don't even try it!" Lanier Sammons heads the ball down the field as his opponent tries to catch a glimpse of where it went. Lanier's aggressiveness helped win the game for the Cavaliers.

"No one saw that coming, not even me!" Sophomore Nick McClendon rolls the ball over his shoulder, confusing his opponents and at the same time changing the domination of the field.

STRIVING FOR A

"Being a lefty ain't so bad!" Sophomore Nick Miklowski maneuvers the ball down and around, showing that he is just as good as the rest of the team, even if he is a lefty soccer player.

"You don't start none, there won't be none!" Commonly cheered, the boys coined this catchy phrase as their fight song before every soccer game.

"Strike a pose!" Wes Nichols clears the ball out of sight before his opponents can get to it not to mention striking an audacious pose distracting even his own teammates.

COMMON GOAL

"Watch me fly!" Junior John McBrearty shows off his soccer skills as he tools his opponents in amazement. His years of experience on the team aided in many victories.

LOUDER THAN THE REST

"This cheerleading stuff really cracks me up!" Freshman Tala Katner's love of cheerleading is evident from the smile on her face. Although cheerleading takes a lot of work, it is also lots of fun.

"Cheerleading is all smiles!"

Freshmen Gina Trentadue, Tala Katner, and Kimberly Rockmore cannot wait for the pep rally to start on Spirit Day during Homecoming Week.

"I hope my ribbon is tied straight!"

Freshman Anna Stiff pushes the hair out of her face before she starts the next cheer. Cheerleading can be very exhilarating at times and at others it can be somewhat demanding.

CHEERS TO YOU!!!

"She sells sea shells by the sea shore!" Lindsey Mummert and Laurnen LeBlanc are in especially good spirits at the beach. The cheerleaders had a fabulous time when they stopped at the beach.

"One, two, three-hut!" Elizabeth Mason prepares to tackle the quarterback at a football pep rally. Cheerleaders playing football was just one of the creative themes of this year's pep rallies.

"Chuga, chuga, chuga, chuga, choo, choo!" The Cavalier cheerleaders lead the spirit train at the Homecoming Pep Rally. The walls of the gym echoed with cheering as the students followed the cheerleaders' example.

"Let's go De Sales!" The B-Team cheerleading squad cheers the soccer team on to victory. The cheers give the players the extra bit of inspiration that they need when the game gets tough.

"Kicking up their heels!" The varsity cheerleaders perform their dance before a pep rally. Dancing was the perfect way to get the crowd of students energized and ready to cheer on their teams.

Varsity Cheerleading: Lauren LeBlanc, Elizabeth Mason, Lindsay Mummert, Jennifer Puckett, Katie Hofstadter, Skyler Stull, Carla Paschke, Lucy Crosby, Brittany Graham, Kimberly Kelsey

THE RETURN OF THE CHAMPS

"Should I slam it or just lay it up?"

Sophomore Eddie Hearn shows that there are many difficult decisions to be made in the game of basketball. Eddie decides to go for a more graceful look with a simple lay-up.

"Is anybody listening to me?" Coach Sherwood uses his loud voice to capture the attention of his exhausted players. The coach required hard work from his players and it showed when the time came to play.

"Give me my basketball back!"

Senior Vari Brown is selfish when it comes to sharing the basketball with the opposing team. Any other time people wouldn't like Vari for his selfishness but the fans love it.

"MDS, what time is it? It's time to get live, it's time to represent!" Before heading out onto the hardwood, the Cavs gather for a team huddle. Afterwards, they show the opposing team what time it is.

"It's a bird...it's a plane...no, it's the basketball!" The Cavs look in amazement as the ball suddenly begins to hover in mid-air. Many spectacular things happened during the season and this was one of them.

"Outta my way little guy!" Senior Stefano Danese backs his helpless defender to score another two points for the Cavs. This big guy used his size and strength to dominate under the boards.

"I believe I can fly!" Junior Nick Richardson shows the crowd that dreams do in fact come true. With such great speed, Nick really can fly without wings. He was a key to the Cavaliers' success this season.

BASKETBALL

What do you like more, dribbling or shooting?

"I like dribbling more because I enjoy trying to fake out my competition."

-Senior Wayne Andrews

What's the penalty for arriving late to practice?

"Sprints, Sprints, Sprints!!!"

-Freshman Carlton McMillan

What do you normally do after the game?

"After a game, I like to go somewhere with my friends and relax."

SHOOTING FOR SUCCESS

♦Sophomore David Rumph had this to say about his experiences during his first season on B-team: "I learned a lot from my time on the team. I feel that this season has really helped me prepare for the varsity."

♦"You guys look great out there!" Coach Slocum and the team take advantage of a timeout by discussing thier strategy in the game. Allowing the players to have some input in his decisions is part of Slocum's great coaching.

♦"I'm just too smooth ..." Sophomore Patrick Cassidy gracefully shows everyone on the court that style is just as important as accuracy when racking up points as he puts in an easy lay-up in the face on the Windsor defense.

"The B-Team boys showed a great deal of determination this season. We started out a little shaky but I was pleased with the way the players pulled together and made the plays."

"We're not about to give up!" Freshmen Jennifer Leverett and Sarah DeLoach hit the floor to fight the ball away from some players of the opposing team. Grabbing the rebounds is an important part of the team's strategy.

THE SHOOTING STARS

"I had high expectations of the girls this season and they met them all. They made a constant effort to improve their game and I am extremely proud of their performance."

-Coach Tammy Hope

◆(L to R): B. Hartley, K. Hatcher, K. Wall, K. Leverett, K. Thomas, S. DeLoach, C. Price, J. Leverett, F. Layfield, A. Orange, M. Rosa, Coach Hope

◆"I can't be blocked!" Despite the fact that she is well-covered, freshman Francis Layfield manages to get the ball up without being stopped. Francis' shooting was extremely important to the team's success this season.

◆"Hold together girls ..." Tammy Hope delivers yet another inspiring, mid-game speech to her exhausted players. Coach Hope managed to stay totally calm through the toughest times of the girls' nearly perfect season.

BASKETBALL

What's running through your head when you have the ball?

"I am thinking about my options. I look to pass, shoot, or dribble. I have to make a decision and hope that it's right."

-Christina Leslein

What do you like more, dribbling or shooting?

"Shooting. When shooting confidently, I feel like I am really contributing and helping the team."

-Christina Price

What was the most exciting shot of the basketball season?

"Jessie Rosa's half court shot at the buzzer! It gave us a 15 point lead against the #2 team in the state, Stratford."

-Melissa Rosa

"You're not gettin' away!" Junior Sarah Mead dives to the floor to recover a wild rebound. Sarah's skills gave the girls a major offensive edge this season. She made a constant effort to improve her already strong game.

"Let's go girls!" The players encourage their companions to hustle for those decisive points at the end of the game. The girls provided a great deal of support for each other through the team's powerful sense of unity.

"Just a few more inches ..." Junior Melissa Rosa frantically sprints ahead in an attempt to grab the ball before it bounces out of bounds. Melissa's determination made her a great asset to the team throughout this season.

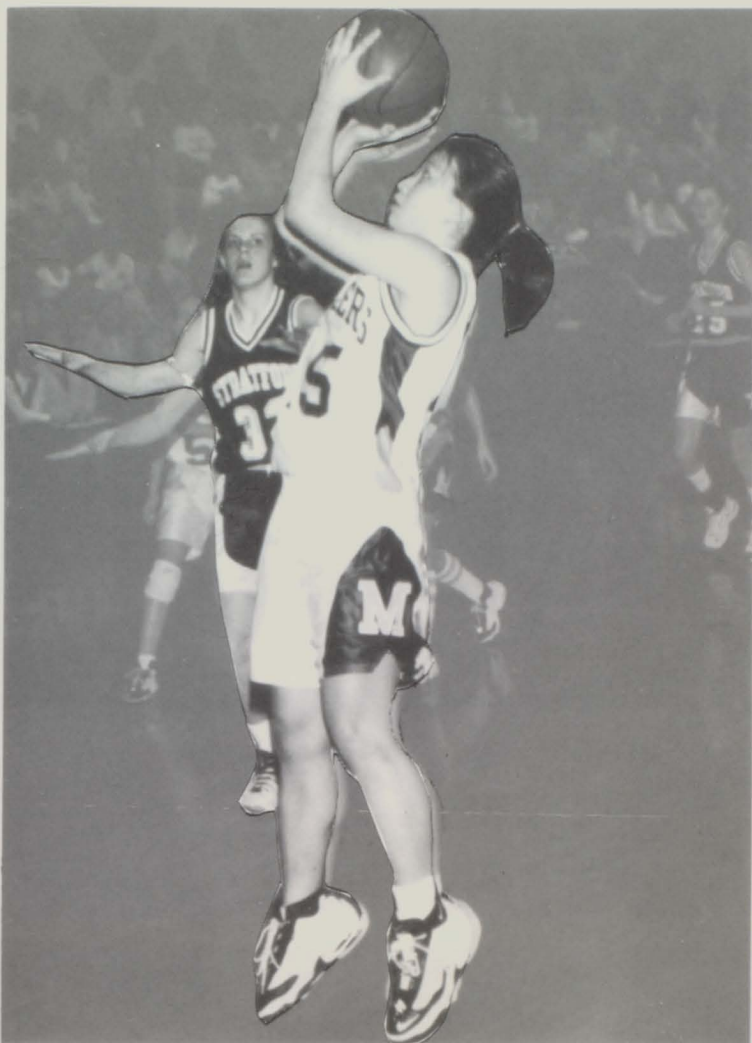

"Nobody blocks my fade-away!" Sophomore Jessie Rosa shows off the power of her offensive game as the Windsor defense struggles to block her. Jessie's extremely accurate shooting was a major asset to the team this season.

"At the buzzer!" Jennifer Van's perfect form makes this look incredibly easy as she goes up for a shot to rack up a few more points for the Lady Cavaliers. Jennifer showed a great deal of dedication to the team this season.

"Nothing's getting by me!" Freshman Jennifer Leverett manages to easily cover two players at the same time. Jennifer made an important contribution to the strong defense that was the backbone of the varsity girls' game.

A NET GAIN

"That's the way to step into it!" Eighth grader Franklin Smith dodges the defense with a giant step. If you think this guy takes huge steps, you should see him jump. Franklin's flexibility added to his overall skill.

"Man this is easy!" Seventh grader Erik Hardison displays his ball-handling skills. Who says you need your eyes to dribble the ball? Erik contemplates his next move while sizing up the defense.

A NEW BALL GAME

"Up, Up, and Away!" Seventh grader Kenny Epps soars above his defenders. Even with a hand in his face, Kenny still finds it easy to make the necessary baskets. Kenny will be on the cover of a Wheaties box soon.

"I'll teach you not to leave me open!" Seventh grader Andrew Durr catches two of his defenders sleeping on the job and takes advantage of this perfect opportunity to grab some points.

"Hey! That's Coach Ken." Coach Ken Garvin instructs his team during a time-out. The Coach looks serious because he's serious about his job. He is very dedicated to his team and the players respect him for that.

"Somebody grab the ball!" Eighth grader Tom Radomski attempts to snag the rebound for his team. Tom looks like he's reaching up onto an imaginary shelf instead of trying to get the ball.

"What should I do?" Seventh grader Erik Hardison can't decide whether or not to shoot the ball or just pass it. Whichever move he decides to take will surely be in the best interest of the team.

MOVING UP...LET'S CHEER...

♦“Show me your spirit Cavaliers!”
C-Team Cheerleaders Kristen Lidstone, Mallory Jones, and Audra Nessing demonstrate to the fans how to stand up and cheer on the team. Their support helps show off their Cavalier spirit.

♦“Ouch, that hurts! Please go in!”
Heads up to seventh grader Kenneth Suchower whose ability to head the ball helped lead the B-Team into the finals. Such outstanding skill will most definitely score a goal and win the game!

MOVING OUT!

◆“Foot Touches Ball. Ball Goes In Goal.” Seventh grader Kenny Epps reminds himself of what to do to make the crowd go wild and to get congrats from the team. You can plan on seeing him playing with the big guys soon.

◆“This One’s For The Win!” Seventh grader Ryan Evans dedicates her two points to the team. What a great way to reinforce the need of teamwork. Remember, it’s not how well one person played but how the team did as a whole.

◆“I Don’t Think So!” Eighth grader Brittany Hartley shows some attitude before scoring a basket for the home team. Before she can shoot for the hoop, she has to find a way to get around the girl who is blocking her view.

◆“The Most Important Thing Is To Put The Ball Directly In The Hoop.” Coach Scott Wynn touches up on some vital last minute pointers before those final seconds of the game. Does the team have time to inforce these skills?

◆“I Think He’s Going To Be O.K.” Who knows? Seventh grader Andrew Dockrell just might be the next Doo-gie Houser. As seventh grader Tommy Hurley lies on the ground in excruciating pain Andrew quickly calls for a stretcher.

A NEW aTRACKtion

"On your mark...get set...GO!"

Junior Pierce Hale prepares for take-off. If he leans forward any further, he'll fall over. His unparalleled speed and perfect posture are the keys to a successful long jump.

"Is that Sweet Nate?" Senior Nathan Williams shows the crowd just how sweet he can be. Nathan gracefully glides over the sand pit. This guy is a professional record breaker, so opponents beware.

"I think you have something on your shirt." Sophomore David Rumph tries to inform junior Ryan Leonard that he has a disgusting bug on his back. Unfortunately, it's too late, and Ryan is long gone.

"I think I can, I think I can!" Senior Glenn Shelby gives himself a short pep talk while throwing the heavy shot put. Words of encouragement are good, but they are even better when you give them to yourself.

OPPOSITES aTRACK

"Who is that hiding from the camera?" Sophomore Michelle Bentley manages to hide her face while throwing the shot put. Michelle shys away from the camera and the high profile lifestyle.

"Can you see the trampoline?" Freshman Audra Orange seems to have had assistance with her long jump. With such a high jump, she is bound to land on the other side of the sand pit.

TRACK & FIELD

"And they're off!" The Cavalier girls come flying around the turn. Their opponents are nowhere in sight because they are so far behind. The girls put numerous hours in at practice and they're work paid-off.

"Hustle! Hustle! Hustle!" Words to live by for these track runners. The guys pick up the pace as they are led around the corner by senior Donovan Davis. For these guys, fatigue is only a figment of their imagination.

"And kick and punch and kick and punch." Junior Rachael Patch looks like she's practicing her Tae-Bo. Maybe this exercise method will give her the strenght that she needs to throw the discus.

THE SWING SETS

♦“Just a little to the left ...” Freshman Andy Blum keeps a nervous eye on his ball as it rolls toward the hole. Andy plays best when he is putting and gave the Cavaliers the upper hand on the green many times this season.

♦“Calm under Pressure” Junior Ryan Wade manages to keep his cool even though the members of the opposing team are watching his every move. Ryan’s incredible skill never fails to amaze both his teammates and his opponents.

♦“I sure hope Coach Davis doesn’t catch me over here in the sand trap!” Eighth grader Zach Benson knocks his ball (and a large piece of the course) out of the rough. Excellent recovery skills are necessary in strong golf game.

“We had one of our best years this year in a while. We could contend next year.”

—Matt McBride

♦“They call me Mr. Longball!” Junior Matt McBride sends his ball soaring across the fairway and toward the hole. Matt’s extremely accurate long-distance game provided a great deal of support for the golf team this season.

"Who knew golf could be so tiring?" Junior Ryan Wade takes a quick break with a member of the opposing team. The golf team always gets along with all their opponents, maintaining their reputation of good sportsmanship.

"Only a few feet to the green ..." Junior Ben Huffman chips his ball away from the water and onto safer ground. The beautiful scenery that a golf course presents makes the game of golf more relaxing than almost any other sport.

WATER WE DOING?

"And they're off!" Two Mount de Sales swimmers make sure they begin the event with an early lead by executing perfect dives. Every experienced swimmer knows that a strong start is an extremely important part of every relay.

"Is it all right if I take this home?" Emily Andrews poses with one of the trophies that was awarded to the team. The success of the swim team has guaranteed that MDS will always be known for its excellent swimming program.

"I hope the water's not too cold ..." Senior Jennifer Jaudon looks across the pool in nervous anticipation just before the start of an event. Hopefully she will feel a little more confident once she gets into the water.

"I could do this all day without even breaking a sweat!" Freshman Laura Wood attempts to conserve her energy by taking deep breaths while she swims. A relay such as this is incredibly demanding of any swimmer's stamina.

"State Championship, here we come!" The team reflects on their high hopes during warmups. Taking state the first year that swimming is recognized as a sport in the GISA is a huge accomplishment for the team and our school.

"Just a few more laps to victory ..." Senior David Schnell gracefully backstrokes his way to the other side of the pool. David's powerful speed and endurance played a major role in the success of the swim team this season.

"How smooth do we look?" David Schnell, Jonathan Ducote, and Zach Dadisman take a short break and have their picture taken. Standing beside the pool and flexing their muscles is their way of intimidating the opposition.

-Jayme Potts

BASEBALL

"Just takin' it easy!" Coach Chester Pierce takes a small break before the game. He enjoys the feel of the breeze on his face. This look of relaxation shows that the coach has confidence in his team.

"HOME SWEET HOME!" Senior Branden Renfroe crosses home plate to score another run for the Cavs. He was out on the base pads for what seemed to be an eternity, but he has finally made it back home.

"This is way too easy." Sophomore Nick McClendon focuses on the ball with eagle-like precision. The opposing pitchers were frustrated because Nick seemed to hit everything they threw his way.

"Did somebody turn the heat on?" When Junior Adam Koetter throws the ball, it's like a ball of fire coming towards the batter. With such great pitching skills, Adam was the king of the mound.

Bottom: Nick McClendon, Jonathan Koetter, Andy Knight, Tim Finney, Adam Koetter, Will Hefner, Scott Hatcher

"Strike Three!" Senior Tim Finney sits down another batter. He can even strike-out batters with his eyes closed. This guy brings the heat when he pitches and his lightning-fast pitches blind his opponents.

TRIPLE PLAY '99

"Look, it's Chipper Jones...no wait, that's Nick Richardson!" Junior Nick Richardson shows that he can field the ball just like the champions. If the Braves ever need a new player, Nick is the man they should call.

"Who says baseball players can't have a team huddle?" Coach Pierce calls his players together for a short pep talk. It doesn't take much to get these guys fired up and a short speech from the coach is sure to do the trick.

"Have you seen my baseball?" Senior Luke Knight calls an important meeting on the mound. The catcher is an important person on the field. He sees everything that goes on and he makes all the important decisions.

"It's a diving play at second!" Junior Zack Dadisman shows the crowd that he doesn't mind getting down in the dirt to win. The players sacrificed their bodies on numerous occasions for the welfare of the team.

BATTER UP!!!

♣ "Show 'em how to knock the cover off it!" Jonathan Koetter makes full contact with the ball and fires it across the field. Jonathan's performance during this season showed everyone that he has a great deal of batting potential.

♣ "Play's at third!" Scott Hatcher hurls the ball to one of his teammates, hopefully bringing the Cavs one out closer to the end of the inning. This was Scott's second season on the team, and he is still showing improvement.

♣ "Give 'em a high, fast one!" Michael Grimsley's strength as a pitcher is evident with his perfect wind-up. The speeding bullet that will come next is sure to cross the plate before the batter discovers what hit him.

♦“Heads up downfield!” Freshman Kristen Taylor launches the ball to her teammates. Soccer is the essence of team sports, and it is necessary that all of the players make a constant effort to work with each of their companions.

KICKIN' UP DUST

♦“Thank you, thank you, I’ll sign autographs later!” Eighth grader Emily Pittard signals to the cheering crowd as she walks across the field and listens to the applause brought on by her amazing performance in the game.

♦“So you think you’re getting around me?” Seventh grader Amanda Ritter closes in on her unsuspecting opponent and goes for a daring steal. Effective defensive strategies require a huge amount of practice throughout the season.

♦“Ready,aim ...” Lindsey Williams draws back to take a shot at the goal. Lindsey devoted much of her time to the team this season, rotating between goalie and several other positions and playing well wherever she was assigned.

"BEEP! BEEP! BEEP!" This soccer game has turned into an interesting game of bumper cars for junior Jennifer Van. Here she bumps an opponent out of the way to score a goal for the Cavaliers.

"Charge!!!" As the Lady Cavaliers take the field, they show their enthusiasm by shouting to the top of their lungs. These ladies bring an unlimited supply of electric energy to the game.

"Ouch, that hurts!" Junior Rebecca Raffield endures the pain while teammate Kasey Smith uses her as an art canvas. The girls decorated themselves with interesting pieces of artwork before every game.

"I wouldn't want to be that soccer ball." Junior Kelly O'Brien prepares to take a crucial penalty kick. In intense situations such as these, Kelly is able to keep her cool because of her experience and pure skill on the field.

"It's just me and the ball." For junior Erica Arena soccer is more than just a game. It's a way of life. Sometimes before the game Erica wanders off by herself to kick the ball around for a while.

SOCCER

"Just call me the wall because nothing can get pass me!" Junior Rachael Patch lives up to her name as the master goalie. Her awareness and leadership on the field led the Lady Cavaliers to an unforgettable season.

"Be one with the ball." Freshman Kirby Williams polishes up on her offensive skills before the game. Kirby's motto was "practice, practice, practice" and she took advantage of every moment to work on her game.

"Who do I have?" The Lady Cavs look to Jennifer Van for guard assignments. After successfully completing the task, the girls are ready to play. Pre-game preparations were essential to a superb season.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

Who can forget the year of 1998-1999? Not a MdS Senior, that's for sure! Each ONE of them has seen GREAT things at Mount de Sales and has surely received something special. As the Seniors end this YEAR and prepare to embark on a whole new journey into college life, the Mount de Sales teachers and underclassman students have but one thing to say to them: we WILL remember you.

Either this pizza is really good, or I'm just really hungry!!!

Emily Andrews and Summer Causey enjoy the delicious pizza graciously provided by the Alumni Association at the Senior Retreat. There is nothing better than free food!

I got WHAT in the superlatives??? Senior Brad Lynch is quite surprised and amused to find out that his classmates chose him as "Shyest and Quietest" for the Senior Superlatives. Little do they know, this guy does get loud on occasion.

Look at those pearly whites! Smiles like the ones Andrea Tice and Michelle Black are wearing mean one thing: the Senior Trip was loads of fun! These Seniors indicate that the bus ride to and from Orlando was just as fun as Universal Studios.

"I am really going to miss these guys." As the very last days of school draw near, Senior John LeBlanc thinks about all of the good times that he has shared with his friends. High school years really are lifetime landmarks.

*The Sovereign Lord is my strength; He makes my feet like

STILL THE ONE

... and the best there will be!

There is no doubt about it: Mount de Sales is an exceptional place with exceptional people. And this has definitely been an exceptional year! Even after 125 years of representing class and excellence, Mount de Sales continues to improve the service that it provides to its community. What's the secret? The students, faculty, and staff of Mount de Sales know that the best way to accomplish any endeavor in education and in service to the community is to do it TOGETHER AS ONE.

"Wow! She has really changed!" Molly Rowland, Sarah Harrison, and Lindsey Holder can't believe their eyes. It is really amazing how ONE person can change over the years.

"I wonder if I am going to miss this cafeteria food." Senior Vance Bumgardner enjoys his spaghetti lunch in the trapezoid. Lunch is ONE great time to feast on good food, chat with friends, and have a few laughs.

"The birds are going to love this house!" Sophomore Julia Brost-Clark paints a birdhouse built by the MdS Environmental Club for Cavalier Fields. Julia knows her birdhouse will be the best ONE in the neighborhood.

ONE artist at his best. Not just your average face painter, Andrew Jenkins is known simply as "Picasso." Concentration is key as he paints another masterpiece on Kristen Salinas.

"I love Spanish food!"
 As the year draws to an end, freshmen Kelly Hutto and Amy Laughter realize ONE favorite thing about Spanish class: the food! Mrs. Haddix's students loved this culinary project.

Time for . . .

ONE LAST GOODBYE

Once more the time has come to close the chapter on another great year. The special moments that were shared and the MEMORIES that were made will not be soon forgotten. But the closing of one door must mean the opening OF another. As the underclassmen begin thinking about their summer and the seniors begin anticipating the upcoming changes in their lives, certain joys like A LIFETIME friend, laughter in halls, and chats in the breezeway will last forever.

---

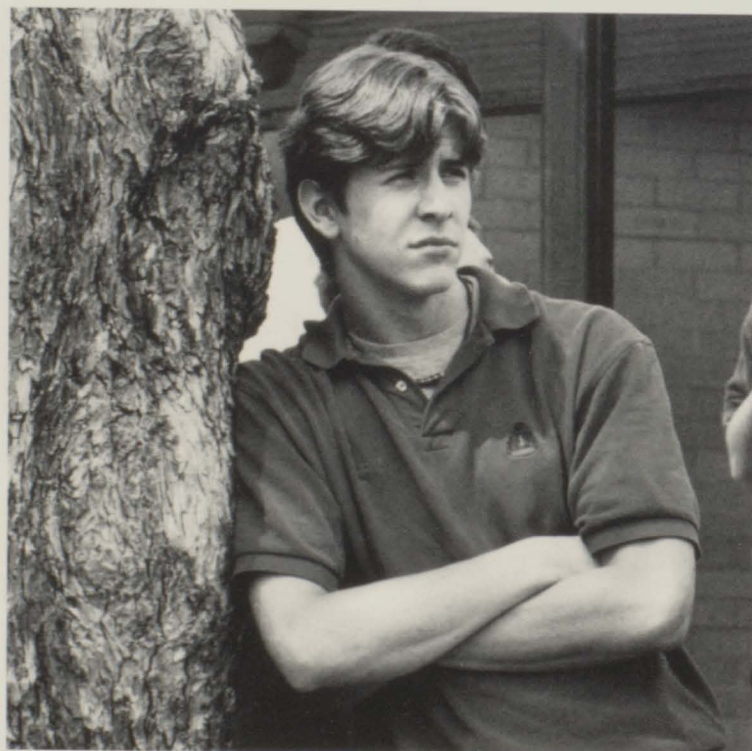

"I can't believe we are actually Seniors!"

Moving Up Day is a tradition in which the juniors take their place as the leaders of the school. They are preparing for ONE of the best years of their life.

"It's finally time to go!" Lindsey Gaskins, Elizabeth Mason, and Jennifer Nelson leave Mount de Sales ONE more time after a long day. They have a little time to relax before doing their homework.

"This year has gone by so quickly." Senior John Michael Pearce takes ONE last time to think about the friends and good times he will be leaving on campus. It has been a year that he will never forget.

"Put the dooflop in the thingamajig, if you will." These words have echoed through the halls of MdS for more than ONE long day and night. Mrs. Sinksen will be greatly missed.

"Don't go!" Sophomore Mandy McClung tearfully embraces her big brother Senior Bradley McClung ONE last time. She doesn't want to think of how much she is going to miss him when he leaves for college.

There is strength in togetherness. As we work together and pray together
everyday, we find ourselves becoming stronger as individuals and as a school.
This is the concept behind
TOGETHER AS ONE.

Though the school year must come to an end, the really important things like the friendships and the memories, will last forever.
The bonds that unite us as
ONE are too strong to be broken.
